PRESS BOX

The Spartan Stadium expansion project, completed in August 2005, included the construction of a new press box. Level 8 is the working press deck that features 193 seats and four radio broadcast booths. Level 6 is the television camera deck as well as the broadcast location for national and regional telecasts.

Admission to the press box is through Gate F on the west side of the stadium. All press personnel are subject to search prior to entering Spartan Stadium.

WORKING CREDENTIALS

All requests for working press, photo and broadcast credentials for Michigan State's 2006 home football games should be submitted online. Please contact sports information office assistant Paulette Martis at (517) 355-2271 for the URL.

Priority for the issuance of credentials will be given to daily newspapers and television stations which cover MSU football on a regular basis. All other credentials for print media are issued on basis of circulation. Upon acceptance of application, appropriate credentials are mailed out or held for pickup at media will-call, located at Gate F on the west side of Spartan Stadium. All members of the media picking up credentials at media will-call will be required to provide photo identification and the name must match the one listed on the credential. Working press tickets contain specific seat locations. Reporters requiring exclusive phone service should have their own lines and instruments installed. Others may use a limited number of telephones on a first-come, first-served basis.

PRO SCOUTS

As per Big Ten Conference regulations, Michigan State does not provide press box access or media credentials for professional scouts. However, scouts may purchase single-game tickets for Spartan home games through the MSU Football Office at (517) 355-1647.

ROAD GAME CREDENTIALS

Writers covering the Spartans on a regular basis may request media credentials for road games through the MSU Sports Information Office. Credential requests are submitted to opponent SIDs on Mondays two weeks prior to the game.

PHONE LINES

An adequate number of phone lines and phone instruments are available, but media members needing to order their own lines should contact Ameritech (800) 321-8152. Those ordering personal phones should provide Ameritech with the following street address for installation, One Michigan State University. To use existing lines, dial 8-0-area code-number. For toll free numbers, dial 8-1-800-number. Only collect, toll free and credit card calls are accepted.

ETHERNET NETWORK

Ethernet connections are available at each of the 193 seats in the press box.

RADIO

Each originating broadcasting station will be issued a maximum of eight booth credentials. Spotters' credentials must come from this allotment. Home team spotters are provided on advance notice only, and visiting team spotters must be arranged with visitors.

Only local radio stations with a full-time sports director conducting a daily sports show receive consideration for credentials. A post-game report service will be available from a sports information staffer after each home game at no charge.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Field passes are issued on the basis of circulation with priority granted to media agencies covering the participating schools on a regular basis. Photographers may work from either sideline (except in the team area) and beyond both end zones. Press box photo passes for assigned locations are issued to television station crews. A maximum of three working tickets is allowed per TV station. With the return of natural grass in Spartan Stadium, field access is limited to still photographers, camera operators and sideline reporters for "live" radio/TV network coverage.

MSU follows the guidelines established by the NCAA Communications Committee regarding sideline control, which ensure the sideline is a working press area. The following guidelines are adhered to: 1. Each photographer is required to wear an armband at all times; 2. Armbands must be secured at the photographer's credential pickup; 3. After kickoff, no photographers are permitted in the bench area, on the playing field, or in the 12-foot area between the limit line and sideline; 4. Cutline writers, messengers and equipment carriers are not permitted in the sideline armband area; 5. Tripods are not permitted in the sideline armband area.

MEDIA PARKING

Media parking passes are available for $15 per game and $105 for the 2006 season (seven home games). The designated lots for media parking are all within easy walking distance of Spartan Stadium. Media parking passes will be assigned by the MSU Sports Information Department. Priority for lot assignment will be given to daily newspapers and TV stations that cover Spartan football on a regular basis. All other media parking will be issued on the basis of circulation or market size (TV/radio). Additional parking fees are required to accommodate TV satellite trucks and "live" radio remotes.

STATISTICAL SERVICES

Prior to kickoff, all media members will be provided a game program, updated game notes from both teams, a flip card and other pertinent information. Last-minute line-up changes, pregame weather conditions and other information will be relayed through the internal public address system. During the game, media members will be provided with a running play-by-play and quickie stats at the end of each quarter. Following the game, a complete post-game stats package will be available in the press box and will contain a scoring summary, final team statistics, final individual statistics, complete play-by-play, drive charts, defensive statistics, player participation list, post-game quotes from both head coaches and selected players plus post-game notes.

Game notes and quotes will be posted on Michigan State's official web site promptly after the conclusion of the game www.msuspartans.com.

MEDIA HOSPITALITY

A complimentary pregame meal will be served on Level 6 (press box) and Level 8 (TV camera deck), beginning approximately two hours before kickoff and running through the conclusion of halftime. Complimentary coffee and soft drinks are available throughout the game. Additional food and refreshments will be sold throughout the game from the concession areas, located on Levels 6 and 8.

HOTEL ROOMS

Hotel rooms are booked far in advance of Michigan State home football weekends. The Michigan State Sports Information Office has set aside a limited number of rooms at local hotels for accredited media representatives. Arrangements should be made through sports information office assistant Paulette Martis at (517) 355-2271. Some area hotels require a two-night stay for Michigan State home football weekends and a valid credit card is required for reservations being made through the MSU Sports Information Office. Media members are responsible for making their own lodging arrangements when Michigan State plays on the road.

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCES

A weekly press conference with MSU head coach John L. Smith and selected players will be held each Monday during the season, beginning at 11:30 a.m. on Level 4 (LaSalle Bank Club) in Spartan Stadium. Parking is available in Lot 79 – the gated, pay lot – located south of Spartan Stadium, off of Shaw Lane.

WEEKLY INTERVIEWS

Outside the weekly press conference, interviews during the week with head coach John L. Smith or any Spartan players should be arranged through the MSU Sports Information Office. Smith's best time for interviews is between 11 a.m.-noon ET during the week. The MSU Sports Information Office requests that all player interviews be arranged through this department and that media members are prohibited from contacting players in their apartments or dormitory rooms. The best time for player interviews is following practice Tuesday at approximately 5:30 p.m. All player interviews should be completed by the conclusion of practice on Wednesday of game week. Please contact the MSU Sports Information Office for all player interview requests at least 24 hours in advance.

Media parking is available in Lot 79 – the gated, pay lot – located south of Spartan Stadium, off of Shaw Lane.

POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

Media representatives may attend head coach John L. Smith's post-game press conference in the interview trailer, located outside the stadium tunnel entrance after a short post-game cooling-off period. All requested Spartan players also will be available for post-game comments in the interview trailer following Coach Smith's press conference. The Spartan locker room is closed to the media. Coach Smith's comments will be hooked into an amplification system and audio feeds can be obtained through use of connector cords (standard 1/4-inch connector). TV stations should bring a recording deck, standard BNC video cable and XLR audio cable. TV cameramen will be asked to set up their equipment at the back of the room. Coach Smith's post-game press conference can also be seen live on closed circuit in the press box. The visiting coach press conference, held in another trailer outside the tunnel, will be shown on a tape-delay basis following Coach Smith's press conference.

PRACTICE SCHEDULE

Tuesday practices are open to the working media for approximately 30 minutes, beginning at approximately 3:30 p.m. TV cameras and still photographers are permitted to shoot flex and the first few periods. The remainder of practice is closed.

WEEKLY RELEASE VIA E-MAIL

To receive the weekly football release via electronic mail, members of the media can send an e-mail message to Associate Athletics Director John Lewandowski: lewand19@ath.msu.edu. The release is also posted on the athletics department official web site www.msuspartans.com in text format and Adobe PDF format.

For the seventh consecutive season, the Spartan Radio Network (Holt, Mich.) will produce and distribute Michigan State football broadcasts on 39 affiliates throughout the state, including flagship station WJIM Radio (AM 1240) and WMMQ (FM 94.9) in Lansing.

The 2006 season marks the return of WJR Radio (AM 760) as MSU's flagship station in Detroit. WJR Radio previously served as the Spartans' flagship station for 14 years, from 1963-76.

Veteran play-by-play announcer George Blaha anchors the Spartan Radio Network's broadcast team for Michigan State football in 2006 that includes former Spartan and pro quarterback Jim Miller as color analyst and former All-Big Ten center Jason Strayhorn as the sideline reporter.

This fall marks Blaha's 29th season as the play-by-play announcer for Spartan football. In addition, he handled play-by-play duties for Michigan State basketball during part of the 2000-01 season. Blaha is wrapping up his 30th consecutive season as the television and radio play-by-play voice of the National Basketball Association's Detroit Pistons. With the retirement of Detroit Tigers' legend Ernie Harwell in 2002 after 42 seasons with the ballclub, the "Voice of the Pistons" is the longest tenured play-by-play broadcaster in the state. Blaha has been named Michigan Sports Broadcaster of the Year twice (1998 and 2002) by the National Association of Sports Writers and Broadcasters. In 2002, he also was presented the Ty Tyson Award for "Excellence in Sports Broadcasting" by the Detroit Sports Broadcasters Association. Blaha earned a bachelor's degree in economics from Notre Dame in 1966 and later received his MBA from Michigan.

Prior to signing a National Letter of Intent to attend Michigan State in February 1989, Miller earned All-America and all-state honors at Kettering High School in Waterford, Mich. A three-year starter for Coach George Perles from 1991-93, he still ranks among MSU's all-time leaders in pass attempts (fifth at 746), pass completions (second at 467), completion percentage (second at .629) and passing yards (fifth at 5,037). As a senior, Miller shared team MVP honors after completing 215-of-336 passes (.640) for 2,269 yards and nine touchdowns. A three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection from 1990-92, he earned his bachelor's degree in supply chain management from Michigan State in 2002.

A sixth-round selection by the Pittsburgh Steelers in the 1994 National Football League Draft, Miller threw for 6,387 yards and 36 TDs during his nine-year pro career (Pittsburgh, 1995-96; Atlanta, 1997; Chicago, 1998-2002; New England, 2004). He earned 27 career starts at quarterback, compiling a 15-11 record as a starter in Chicago. In five seasons with the Bears, Miller recorded three 300-yard passing games. In his first career start against Minnesota on Nov. 14, 1999, he completed 34-of-48 throws for 422 yards and three scores. His 422 passing yards represent the fourth-highest single-game total in Chicago history. In 2001, Miller led the Bears' charge to the playoffs, posting an 11-2 record as a starter during the regular season while establishing career highs in pass attempts (395), pass completions (228), passing yards (2,299) and TDs (13). In 2002, he threw for 1,944 yards while matching his career best with 13 TD tosses.

A native of Indianapolis, Ind., Strayhorn started 24 consecutive games at center for Coach Nick Saban in 1997-98. As a senior, he earned first-team All-Big Ten honors from the coaches and media after grading out as a winner (better than 70 percent) in 11 of the 12 games in 1998. The former team captain also received the Up Front Award as the team's outstanding interior lineman in 1998, consistently posting the unit's top grade for pass protection by not allowing a sack the entire season. Strayhorn turned in one of the best performances of his career in MSU's 28-24 victory over top-ranked Ohio State in Columbus in 1998. He was selected Spartan Offensive Player of the Week after grading out 80 percent overall against the Buckeyes, including 89 percent in his pass-blocking assignments. Strayhorn received his bachelor's degree in business management from Michigan State in 1998.

Mike Kamin returns for his fourth season as broadcast host for the Spartan Radio Network. In addition, Kamin serves as co-host for the Spartan Radio Network's pre- and post-game coverage. He previously served as the producer and broadcast host for the Central Michigan Football Radio Network for five years. In addition, Kamin serves as host of a daily statewide radio series that focuses on collegiate sports, entitled "The Michigan Sports Brief." A 1995 University of Illinois graduate and three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection, Kamin competed as a member of the Illini's 1994 Big Ten championship track and field team.

Will Tieman returns for his seventh year on the Spartan football broadcast team, serving as co-host for the pre- and post-game shows. For the 17th year, Tieman serves as host for the syndicated series, "This Week in College Football." Tieman's other football-related activities include: hosting a daily statewide series, called "In the Huddle with John L. Smith" and handling play-by-play duties for the national broadcast of the Motor City Bowl.

It's unnatural for Michigan State head football coach John L. Smith to take a second glance at his rearview mirror and reflect on a 2005 season that might have been something special. The Spartans opened last year with a bang, outscoring its first four opponents, 176-83, en route to a perfect 4-0 record. The fast start featured a 44-41 overtime victory at Notre Dame and an impressive 61-14 road win over Illinois in the Big Ten opener. Thanks to its impressive start, Michigan State climbed to No. 11 in The Associated Press poll.

However, an overtime loss to Michigan (34-31) and a fourth-quarter setback at Ohio State (35-24) sent the Spartans into a tailspin as the team lost five of its last six regular-season games. Four of those six losses came by a combined total of 30 points. With a 5-6 finish, Coach Smith experienced back-to-back losing seasons for the first time in his 17 years as a college head coach.

"I'm not discouraged; I'm encouraged about the future of this football program," Smith said. "We're extremely close to breaking into the Big Ten's upper division.

"As I look back upon last year, I firmly believe the team would have gotten over the hump with a victory over Michigan. There's no doubt in my mind that the season would have turned out completely different.

"Despite our record the last two seasons, we've improved as a football program. Winning is a habit and our players are learning how to win, not only on Saturdays but in their daily lives. I like their attitude and their work ethic. These guys are developing a winning attitude in the classroom and on the field.

"In addition, our depth situation has improved dramatically. And despite our youth, I believe that this team will have an opportunity to win games and actually compete for the league championship."

Michigan State returns 13 starters overall from last year's team, including six each on offense and defense and one specialist.

The Spartans ranked among the NCAA leaders in all four offensive categories: No. 20 in rushing offense (201.8 yards per game), No. 11 in passing offense (school-record 295.5 ypg.), No. 5 in total offense (school-record 497.3 ypg.) and No. 18 in scoring offense (33.8 points per game). Michigan State finished second in the Big Ten in passing offense and total offense while ranking third in rushing offense and fourth in scoring offense. Michigan State's per game averages for passing offense (No. 10) and total offense (No. 4) rank among the top 10 season totals in Big Ten history.

"The offense accomplished a lot last year and posted some impressive numbers, but I expect this unit to be even more polished in 2006," Smith said. "With a veteran quarterback like Drew Stanton returning along with a bunch of skill position players, the offensive totals should grow."

After allowing 409.5 total yards and 28.7 points per game in 2005, Coach Smith is determined to find improvement on the defensive side of the football.

"I honestly believe that we're going to be better on the defensive side of the ball," Smith said. "We're going to simplify things on defense and as a result, hopefully we're going to limit the number of mental mistakes. Defensively, we need to develop a nasty attitude because we simply aren't talented enough to go through the motions. We have to play with abandon and start hitting and punishing people.

"There's no doubt in my mind that we'll be a better all-around football team in 2006. Perhaps, a team good enough to compete for a championship."

POSITION-BY-POSITION BREAKDOWN

Fourth-year head coach John L. Smith takes a position-by-position look at the 2006 Spartans.

QUARTERBACKS

Michigan State will build its 2006 offense around fifth-year senior quarterback Drew Stanton (6-3, 230), who accounted for a Spartan single-season record 3,415 total yards and 26 touchdowns last season. Stanton completed 236-of-354 throws for 3,077 yards and a school-record 22 TDs in 2005. He also ranked among the NCAA's top 10 in both total offense (No. 8 at 310.5 yards per game) and passing efficiency (No. 10 with a 153.4 rating).

An All-America and Heisman Trophy candidate, Stanton ranks among MSU's career leaders in completion percentage (first at .657), passing efficiency rating (first at 145.3), total offense (second at 5,784 yards), TD passes (fifth at 30), pass completions (sixth at 379), passing yards (sixth at 4,717) and pass attempts (eighth at 577). He is listed among the NCAA's (I-A) active career leaders in completion percentage (third) and passing efficiency rating (fourth), and also ranks among the Big Ten's career leaders in completion percentage (first) and passing efficiency rating (fourth).

Sophomore Brian Hoyer (6-2, 210) provides experience as a back-up quarterback. He appeared in five games as a freshman, completing 15-of-23 passes for 167 yards and two touchdowns.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE QUARTERBACKS

"Drew Stanton is becoming a coach on the field. He's matured a lot in this offense over the last three years, and now he's showing the patience to allow the offense to work for him. Drew understands the importance of taking care of the football and not forcing any throws.

"I simply love his competitiveness and that's why Drew strives for perfection every time he steps on the field. He's preparing himself for a special season.

"Brian Hoyer is becoming more comfortable and relaxed in this offense. He's working hard at training his eyes, so he becomes more natural in making his reads. He's beginning to develop the patience to let the offense work for him, instead of fighting it."

In 2005, Drew Stanton became just the second quarterback in Spartan history to reach the 3,000-yard passing milestone in a season.

RUNNING BACKS

The Spartans return 24 lettermen on the offensive side of the football, including the top two ball carriers: sophomore Javon Ringer (5-9, 198) and junior Jehuu Caulcrick (6-0, 260), who combined to rush for 1,295 yards and 12 TDs in 2005.

Ringer led the Spartans with 817 yards on 122 carries, the second-best single-season rushing total by a true freshman in Spartan history. He rushed for a Spartan-freshman record 194 yards on 13 carries vs. Illinois, including a season-long 59-yard gallop in the third quarter. For the year, he finished with five rushing touchdowns. He also proved to be a capable receiver out of the backfield, grabbing 19 balls for 138 yards.

Caulcrick led the Spartans with seven rushing touchdowns, recording 478 yards on 89 attempts. He scored a touchdown in four-straight games in the middle of the Big Ten season, beginning with the Michigan contest. He has two 100-yard rushing games to his credit for his career, including a 140-yard effort against Kent State in the 2005 opener.

Michigan State employed a three-back rotation a year ago, and Smith plans to follow the same game plan in 2006 as red-shirt freshman A.J. Jimmerson (5-10, 205) joins the mix. After being named the 2005 Scout Team Offensive Player of the Year, he turned in an impressive spring, averaging 5.0 yards per carry in two scrimmages.

Jehuu Caulcrick rushed for 478 yards in 2005 while leading the Spartans in scoring with seven touchdown runs.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE RUNNING BACKS

"I really like our three-back rotation. This is the most exciting group of running backs that I've ever been around as a coach. I doubt that there are many teams in the country that can match our talent and depth at running back.

"Javon Ringer had an impressive freshman year, but he'll be even better this season because he's more comfortable in the offense, plus he's added some strength.

"Jehuu Caulcrick has matured a bundle and he's learning how to become a punishing runner. When he plays with a nasty attitude, Jehuu can be a load for defenders to bring down. At his size and speed, Jehuu can punish tacklers and he's beginning to enjoy that aspect of his game.

"A.J. Jimmerson brings some new skills to the table, especially in terms of his ability to catch the football coming out of the backfield. A.J. is a guy that can spell Javon and we won't lose any of that big-play ability."

Javon Ringer led the Spartans in rushing as a true freshman, gaining 817 yards while averaging nearly 7.0 yards per carry.

OFFENSIVE LINE

The toughest challenge on offense is retooling an offensive line that lost three starters, including left tackle Stefon Wheeler, center Chris Morris and right guard Gordon Niebyski. The returning starters up front are senior left guard Kyle Cook (6-3, 295) and junior Mike Gyetvai (6-7, 307), who is making the switch from right to left tackle this season.

An All-America candidate, Cook has started 23-consecutive games at left guard entering the 2006 season. He has been a model of consistency, grading out 90 percent or better in 23 of 26 career games played, while also recording 109 career pancakes. Gyetvai started all 11 games at right tackle in 2005, scoring 91 percent or better in every game.

Junior John Masters (6-4, 296) is the heir apparent to replace Morris at the center position. Now in his fourth year in the program, Masters has appeared in seven career games, including five in 2005. Junior Pete Clifford (6-7, 300) and sophomore Jesse Miller (6-6, 306) are expected to battle for the starting nod at right tackle. Clifford saw action in five games in 2005, while Miller appeared in four.

Sophomore Roland Martin (6-5, 325) is slated for the starting job at right guard. Martin appeared in seven games as a reserve last season, grading out at 93 percent or better in each contest.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE OFFENSIVE LINE

"Chris Morris was one of the top centers in college football for the last two years, so we're definitely going to miss him.

"This year, we've traded experience for athleticism.

"John Masters improved dramatically during the second half of spring ball. John doesn't have anywhere near the game experience that Chris Morris had, but we're confident in his ability to assume the role of being the communicator up front.

"Not only is Kyle Cook arguably the best player on the o-line, he's definitely the leader of that crew. He exudes toughness, plus he practices and plays with an attitude.

"We started thinking about this switch for Mike Gyetvai last season. The more experience he gains, the better he gets. His confidence level has gone up a ton, and he's actually turned into one of the leaders on the offensive front. It's nice to see Mike become more vocal. He's definitely athletic enough to play left tackle.

"Roland Martin is going to be a great player because he has big-time tools. He only lacks maturity in his mental approach to the game. Roland is just beginning to develop the maturity needed to play through pain and injuries.

"Pete Clifford is another guy that has improved a ton since last season. He's improved his strength and his footwork. Pete was a big guy when he came here in 2003, but he wasn't blessed with great feet. Like so many young linemen, his body hadn't matured yet.

"It's going to be difficult to keep Jesse Miller out of the lineup. He's bigger, stronger and faster than he was a year ago. Jesse looks like a deer when running against the other offensive linemen. He's got a massive body, with long arms. At times, his body seems to completely engulf the defender. Football is very important to Jesse, so he takes great pride in going to the field and competing. He's conditioning himself to be a winner in every aspect of the game as well as the game of life. This is a special quality that can't be coached."

Kyle Cook led the offensive line in pancake blocks (50) in 2005 while grading out 94 percent or higher in every game.

TIGHT ENDS

The Spartans have a solid 1-2 punch at tight end in junior Kellen Davis (6-6, 253) and sophomore Dwayne Holmes (6-0, 277). Davis appeared in all 11 games last season, including four starts, and caught a pass in seven different contests. He had 15 receptions for 122 yards (8.1 avg.) and two touchdowns, scoring against Notre Dame and Illinois.

A former linebacker/defensive end, Holmes appeared in all 11 games as a tight end, starting two contests. He had three receptions for 25 yards (8.3 avg.) — all resulting in touchdowns. He scored on a 20-yard pass against Minnesota, while his two touchdown receptions against Illinois were less than 5 yards each.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE TIGHT ENDS

"Kellen Davis is a very athletic tight end, and I expect him to be more of a receiving threat in the passing game this year. He certainly has the ability to run down the field and catch the ball, but he needs to continue to add weight and become a more physical blocker. Kellen has such a great frame that could probably add another 20 pounds and people would hardly notice.

"A former linebacker/defensive end, Dwayne Holmes found a home at tight end. He adds a physical presence at the tight end spot. Dwayne matured a great deal last season, and he became a more confident player. We need to find ways to expand Dwayne's role in the offense."

WIDE RECEIVERS

Another area where depth does not appear to be a concern is wide receiver where eight lettermen return, including four of the top five pass catchers. Returning starters Jerramy Scott (5-10, 186, Sr.) and Matt Trannon (6-6, 235, Sr.) combined for 89 receptions, 1,295 yards and eight TDs in 2005.

Starting nine games as the slot receiver, Scott led all Spartans with 722 receiving yards on 49 catches. He has caught at least one pass in 15-consecutive games. For his career, he has 107 receptions for 1,378 yards (12.9 avg.) and nine touchdowns, needing eight receptions and 479 receiving yards in 2006 to crack MSU's all-time top 10 in those categories. One of Scott's better efforts last season came against Ohio State, where he caught seven passes for a career-best 129 yards and one touchdown against one of the nation's top defenses.

Trannon started nine games at split end, and finished second on the team in receptions (40) and receiving yards (573). He scored four touchdowns, including a career-high two against Notre Dame, while also recording the first 100-yard receiving game of his career with five catches for 136 yards against the Fighting Irish.

Senior Kerry Reed (6-2, 198) enters the season as the starting flanker. He led the team with five touchdown receptions, catching 31 passes for 438 yards. Reed improved as the season went on, as 19 of his 31 catches came over the last five games of the year (222 receiving yards and 3 TDs during that stretch).

Junior Terry Love (5-11, 177) is the fourth returning receiver with more than 400 yards last season, catching 28 passes for 430 yards and three touchdowns. Entering the season as Reed's back-up at flanker, Love recorded 100 receiving yards (four receptions) in the season opener against Kent State.

While there is a lot of talented depth at the position, look for newcomers Devin Thomas (6-2, 217, So.) and T.J. Williams (6-3, 184, Fr.) to be significant contributors in the Spartan offense. Thomas comes to Michigan State after one season at Coffeyville (Kan.) Community College, where he was ranked as one of the top 20 JUCO prospects in the nation. Williams enrolled at MSU in January, allowing him to take part in spring ball and establish himself as Trannon's primary backup at split end.

Jerramy Scott has established himself as one of the Big Ten's top playmakers, with 88 receptions for 1,166 yards and seven touchdowns in the last two seasons.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE WIDE RECEIVERS

"I really like the attitude and work ethic of our wide outs. The competition for playing time is going to be intense. The spread offense has the tendency to attract talented receivers and as a result, our depth is the best that it's ever been in my coaching career.

"Over the last two years, Jerramy Scott has really established himself as the go-to receiver. For a former running back, he's come a long way as a receiver. He catches the ball well and he's got the ability to make things happen after the grab. I admire Jerramy because he gives you everything he's got on every play, plus he's willing to stand in there and fight as a blocker on running plays. I expect Jerramy to have a big senior year.

"Matt Trannon has made great strides over the last three years. This year, he has a chance to establish himself as a legitimate NFL prospect. In the spring, Matt ran better routes, showed more speed and most importantly, played with greater confidence. Matt also demanded the ball more during the spring, and that was certainly good to see.

"Kerry Reed certainly gave the team a lift last year. He's got nice soft hands and rarely drops a pass.

"I truly believe that this is the year for Terry Love to shine. We're still trying to develop his size, but Terry has the ability to do it all.

"Newcomer Devin Thomas adds big-play ability to the offense. He's a big target, with nice soft hands. Sometimes, you can hear the ball when it reaches a receiver's hands but not with Devin. His hands are so soft that you can't hear the ball when it arrives. We'll try to utilize Devin some at an inside position, so can take advantage of his size and strength in specific situations.

"I also like T.J. Williams a lot. He's got great speed and a ton of athleticism. T.J. reminds me some of Kerry Reed, but much faster. He needs to add some strength, but he's going to be a heck of a player here."

Matt Trannon set career highs for receptions (40), receiving yards (573) and touchdown catches (4) in 2005.

DEFENSIVE LINE

One of the toughest obstacles is rebuilding the defensive line that lost three starters, in defensive tackles Domata Peko and Brandon McKinney, plus defensive end Michael Bazemore.

Senior Clifton Ryan (6-2, 302) is the lone returning starter among the front four. Even though he ranks as Michigan State's most experienced defensive player, with 23 career starts under his belt, he will be playing a new position, having made the transition from stud end to defensive tackle in spring ball. Last season, he finished third among Spartan defensive linemen in tackles with 34 (22 solos, 12 assists), including four for losses (4 for 16 yards), while leading the team in sacks with three for 11 yards.

Senior David Stanton (6-3, 290) is expected to line up next to Ryan as the other starting defensive tackle. He saw action in 10 games in 2005, including three starting assignments at defensive tackle, registering 13 tackles (6 solos, 7 assists), including two for losses (4 yards).

Junior Ogemdi Nwagbuo (6-4, 297) is ready to provide depth at defensive tackle. A junior college transfer from Southwestern College in Chula Vista, Calif., Nwagbuo was impressive during spring practice with the Spartans.

With Ryan moving to defensive tackle, sophomore Justin Kershaw (6-4, 254) enters the fall as the starter at stud end. Kershaw appeared in all 11 games in 2005, however most of his experience came on special teams. He did record his first career sack against Hawaii.

Junior Nick Smith (6-6, 280) will back-up Kershaw. Smith appeared in all 11 games in 2005, and earned his first career start in the season opener against Kent State. For the season, he tallied seven tackles (3 solos, 4 assists). He suffered a knee injury in spring practice and his recovery will determine his playing time.

At rush end, sophomore Brandon Long (6-4, 244) enters the fall as the starter. He played in seven games as a true freshman in 2005 and made three tackles (1 solo, 2 assists). Junior Jonal Saint-Dic (6-1, 260) is slated for back-up duty at rush end. He was granted a medical redshirt after missing the last seven games of the 2005 season with a groin injury. He made his only appearance of the 2005 season in the Big Ten opener vs. Illinois, where his first career sack (8 yards) resulted in a fumble and safety against the Illini.

In his first two seasons as a starter, Clifton Ryan has produced 75 tackles, including 14 for losses.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE DEFENSIVE LINE

"We're a little more athletic along the defensive front, so we might try more stunting this fall.

"Clifton Ryan is our ace in the hole because he's a 300-pounder that can run. He has the flexibility to play inside at defensive tackle or outside at defensive end. Clifton is certainly more athletic than last year's defensive tackles, Domata Peko and Brandon McKinney. Down the road, he's going to be a better NFL prospect as a defensive tackle.

"David Stanton should have a greater impact inside. He's finally got the strength back in his shoulder and neck. I really like his athleticism and quickness.

"I really liked what I saw from Ogemdi Nwagbuo during spring ball. O.G. is a big, strong inside guy that can run. Without a doubt, he's a guy that will step in and contribute this fall. O.G. still has a lot to learn, but he's got a big upside. He just does some things so naturally on the field, like pushing the pocket.

"We're going to be fine at defensive end. I like Brandon Long because he plays with an attitude. Brandon has great quickness and great explosion off the edge. He's just a sophomore, but I'm expecting big things from Brandon because he does have some great get off. In fact, Brandon might have the best quickness among the defensive ends. He continues to work at becoming a better technician.

"On the flip side, Justin Kershaw is a true technician. He tries to play technically correct all the time.

"Nick Smith has the ability to be a pretty darn good pass rusher, but he's been plagued by a series of knee injuries.

"If Jonal Saint-Dic goes out and practices hard every day, then he could push for playing time. He has shown some ability to rush the passer in practice, but he must become more consistent."

LINEBACKERS

For the first time in Smith's tenure as head coach, linebacker depth is no longer a cause for concern. While senior David Herron Jr. (6-1, 245) and junior Kaleb Thornhill (6-1, 239) are proven commodities at linebacker, three returning lettermen plus two red-shirt freshmen and a pair of true freshmen also will push for playing time in 2006.

An All-America candidate who is featured on the 2006 Bronko Nagurski Trophy Watch List (Defensive Player of the Year), Herron ranks as the team's most experienced linebacker with 22 career starts at whip linebacker to his credit. He has five career double-figure tackle games, including 13 against Michigan and 12 against Minnesota last season. In 2005, he ranked second on the team in tackles (65), tackles for losses (4 for 15 yards) and production points (137), while his three fumble recoveries led the team.

Thornhill started 10 games at middle linebacker last season. He ranked third on the team in tackles with 63 (32 solos, 31 assists), nearly doubling his total from 2004, while tying for second on the ballclub with four tackles for losses (15 yards). He finished seventh on the defensive leaderboard with 72 production points. He reached double digits in tackles for the first time in his career against Notre Dame, producing a career-best 11 stops (3-8).

Senior Steve Juarez (6-1, 232) and red-shirt freshmen Andrew Hawken (6-2, 235) and Adam Decker (6-2, 240) will provide talented depth in the linebacker unit. In 11 games last season, Juarez recorded 13 tackles, including two for losses (2 yards).

David Herron Jr. has recorded 160 tackles over the last two seasons, including 12 for losses.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE LINEBACKERS

"David Herron Jr. is set to have a banner senior year. I'm so proud of what he's accomplished over the last three years. He's come a long way since he was forced to move from fullback — a position the spread offense eliminated — to linebacker. David is just beginning to scratch the surface of his potential, but he definitely has a chance to play on Sundays. He's invested a ton of time watching film and developing the instincts of a linebacker. Now, David looks so natural playing that position because he has tremendous range. We can line him up anywhere and he knows exactly where to fit in.

"He's also beginning to emerge as a leader on the defensive side of the ball. David isn't a natural leader, but he's starting to step up and become more vocal on the field.

"Kaleb Thornhill is an intelligent, experienced football player. I just hope we can keep Kaleb healthy for an entire season.

"I really like our depth at linebacker, and I like the way those guys are competing for reps. Adam Decker and Andrew Hawken will be thrown into the mix as well as a few true freshmen."

DEFENSIVE BACKS

Michigan State will build its 2006 defense around its secondary that features 11 returning lettermen.

Junior SirDarean Adams (6-0, 230) is back for his second season as the Spartans' starting bandit. He started all 11 games at the bandit position in 2005, leading the team in tackles for losses (5 for 29 yards) and interceptions (3 for 54 yards) while ranking fourth in total tackles (60) and production points (86). He returned his first career interception 30 yards for a touchdown at Notre Dame. Against Hawaii, he recorded a career-best 12 tackles (10 solos, 2 assists), including two for losses (14 yards), while also posting his first career sack (10 yards).

Seniors Greg Cooper (5-11, 186) and Demond Williams (5-9, 174) hold down the starting jobs at the corners. After starting every game at free safety in 2005, Cooper made the transition to boundary corner in spring practice. Last season, he finished sixth on the team in tackles with 48

(32 solos, 16 assists), including three for losses (10 yards). Williams is in his second season as the starting field corner, having recorded 29 tackles (25 solos, 4 assists) and one interception in 2005.

Sophomores Ross Weaver (6-1, 202) and Jelani Nantambu (5-9, 186) will be in the rotation at cornerback. Weaver appeared in nine games last season and recorded eight solo tackles. Nantambu appeared in all 11 contests, exclusively on special teams.

At strong safety, junior Nehemiah Warrick (6-1, 203) enters his first season with the Spartans. A 2005 NJCAA All-American at Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College, Warrick was impressive in spring practice with Michigan State.

With Cooper moving to cornerback, sophomore Otis Wiley (6-2, 209) enters his first season as the starting free safety. He appeared in the last 10 games of the 2005 season, and totaled 18 tackles (12 solos, 6 assists).

SirDarean Adams emerged as one of the defense's top playmakers in 2005, recording five tackles for losses and three interceptions.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE DEFENSIVE BACKS

"We've improved the athleticism across the board in the secondary.

"SirDarean Adams has great range from the bandit position. SirDarean has the size to bounce into the box and speed to cover receivers. He emerged as a playmaker in the secondary last season, and we're expecting even more productivity this fall. We were really impressed with the way he communicated in the back row last year.

"Demond Williams is more comfortable this season, because he has a better grasp of the system. He's worked hard on his footwork and proper coverage techniques. At times last year, Demond reverted back to doing the things that he did in junior college. He's really taken the criticism to heart, and he's trying to do things the right way. Demond also demonstrated some leadership qualities during the spring.

"Greg Cooper has the feet to play out there on an island, plus he adds a physical presence to the position.

"Ross Weaver is going to be a solid corner because of his size and speed. He's got long arms, so he can get up in the receivers' face to jam.

"This league features physical safeties, and Nehemiah Warrick certainly fits that mold. He has the skill to be a playmaker in the back row, because he's physical and he's got good ball sense. Nemo has great range from the middle of the field, and he's always looking to make a hit. He approaches practice the way you'd like every player to: with great effort, energy and abandon. Nemo plays with a temperament that's infectious. Nemo plays hard and fast every snap and always seems to be around the football. When you watch the film, you see him making plays all over the field. He brings an excitement to the defensive huddle. He plays the game the way it was meant to be played.

"Otis Wiley has all of the physical tools to play free safety. Otis is extremely intelligent and picks things up quickly. Again, he has the size to step into the box and hit, plus the speed to cover."

SPECIAL TEAMS

Senior Brandon Fields (6-6, 235) hopes to regain the form that earned him consensus All-America honors in 2004 when he led the nation in punting with his 47.9-yard average. Last season, Fields ranked fourth in the Big Ten in punting with his 41.6-yard average. He hit seven punts 50 or more yards and had 11 kicks downed inside the opponent's 20-yard line.

The place-kicking game was certainly a weakness for the 2005 Spartans as Michigan State converted on just 5-of-16 field-goal attempts. This season, sophomore Todd Boleski (6-6, 214) and Brett Swenson (5-8, 151) are expected to audition for the placekicking duties. Boleski handled the kickoff chores for the last six games of the 2005 season and had a solid spring practice on his field-goal attempts. A true freshman, Swenson was ranked among the nation's top five kickers by Rivals.com (No. 4) and Scout.com (No. 4) as a prep senior in Florida.

SMITH TALKS ABOUT THE SPECIAL TEAMS

"We're trying to simplify things with our punt protection. We're going to make the switch from utilizing zone protection to man protection, and we're going to let Brandon Fields kick the ball deep. I want to kick myself in the tail for asking Brandon to do too many things last year. We'll need to work on other things, like rugby punting and different formations, just to keep people honest. Our objective is to line up and let Brandon bang the ball. With the new protection scheme, the players should be able to get downfield and cover the kicks better.

"Obviously, the place-kicking job won't be decided until preseason camp when freshman Brett Swenson arrives on campus, but Todd Boleski has emerged as a legitimate contender for that role. Todd got his feet wet as the kickoff specialist late last season. He's got a huge leg, and he gets the ball up quickly. Todd has improved a ton since last year, especially in terms of his consistency. I really like what I saw from him during the spring, because he kicked with a lot of confidence.

"Todd also has the right temperament to be a successful placekicker. Like all good kickers, he's a bit of a goofball, but that's okay because he doesn't let one miss affect his next kick. Todd has shown the ability to bounce back after a miss and kick the next ball through the uprights.

"With the improved depth at linebacker, I also expect several guys to play significant roles on special teams because they can all run and they like to hit."

FOURTH SEASON

In his first three years on the job, Michigan State head football coach John L. Smith invested his time, effort and energy into building a solid foundation for the program's future. Now as he enters his fourth season in East Lansing, Smith is confident that the foundation is set and the Spartans are positioned to make a move up in the Big Ten standings.

Michigan State opened the 2005 season with a bang, outscoring its first four opponents, 176-83, en route to a perfect 4-0 record. A 44-41 overtime victory at No. 10 Notre Dame highlighted the fast start as the Spartans produced their fifth-straight win in South Bend, Ind., tying Purdue (1954-62) for the longest winning streak by an Irish opponent in the storied stadium. The following week, the Spartans amassed a school-record 705 total yards in a 61-14 victory over Illinois in the Big Ten opener, breaking the previous single-game mark of 698 against Purdue in 1971. The 705 total yards also marked the third-best single-game figure for a league game in Big Ten history. The 61 points marked the Spartans' highest total since scoring 76 against Northwestern in 1989. In addition, MSU tied the Big Ten single-game record with seven TD passes. With four impressive wins under its belt, Michigan State climbed to No. 11 in The Associated Press poll.

However, an overtime loss to Michigan (34-31) and a fourth-quarter setback at Ohio State (35-24) sent the Spartans into a tailspin as the team lost five of its last six regular-season games. Four of those six losses came by a combined total of 30 points.

In 2005, Michigan State ranked among the NCAA leaders in all four offensive categories: No. 20 in rushing offense (201.8 yards per game), No. 11 in passing offense (school-record 295.5 ypg.), No. 5 in total offense (school-record 497.3 ypg.) and No. 18 in scoring offense (33.8 points per game). The Spartans finished second in the Big Ten in passing offense and total offense while ranking third in rushing offense and fourth in scoring offense. Michigan State's per game averages for passing offense (No. 10) and total offense (No. 4) rank among the top 10 season totals in Big Ten history.

All told, the 2005 Spartans produced top 10 MSU single-season totals in six different offensive categories, including first downs (No. 1: 284), total yards per game (No. 1: 497.3 ypg.), total offense (No. 2: 5,470 total yards), passing yards (No. 3: 3,250), total points (No. 4: 372) and scoring average (No. 5: 33.8 ppg.).

In 2005, Drew Stanton became just the second quarterback in Spartan history to reach the 3,000-yard passing milestone in a season, joining Jeff Smoker who threw for 3,395 yards in 2003. Stanton completed 236-of-354 throws (.667) for 3,077 yards and a school-record 22 touchdowns. He ranked second in the Big Ten and No. 10 in the NCAA in passing efficiency with his 153.4 rating. A key to Stanton's throwing success in 2005 was his ability to utilize all of the weapons at his disposal as the Spartans ranked as the only

NCAA I-A team to have five players with at least 400 receiving yards each.

When Smith took over the Michigan State football program, he knew his mission wasn't an easy one. Playing against a 2004 schedule that featured seven bowl participants, Smith's Spartans saw four of the 12 games decided by eight points or less. Unfortunately, Michigan State dropped all four of those nail biters by a combined total of 23 points.

Despite falling short in their quest for a second-straight bowl bid, the Spartans (5-7, 4-4 Big Ten) produced some impressive results in 2004, recording two victories over ranked opponents. Michigan State dominated play in all three phases of the game in stunning No. 4 Wisconsin, 49-14. Against the Badgers, the Spartans had two goal-line stands, amassed 430 yards on the ground and blocked a punt for a touchdown. Michigan State was equally as impressive in its 51-17 triumph over No. 19 Minnesota as the Spartans produced a season-best 636 total yards while limiting the nation's third-best running game to just 102 yards — 199 below its season average.

In 2004, Michigan State featured one of the nation's most prolific offensive attacks. The Spartans led the Big Ten and ranked No. 10 in the NCAA in total offense (460.0 yards per game) while racking up a school single-season record 5,520 total yards. In addition, Michigan State finished second in the Big Ten and No. 10 nationally in rushing, averaging 238.5 yards per game. In Big Ten play, the Spartans rushed for a league-best 265.8 yards per game. The 2,862 rushing yards marked the sixth-best single-season total in Spartan history.

In three seasons under Coach Smith, 41 student-athletes have been named Academic All-Big Ten, the highest three-year total in football program history. In 2005, a school-record 18 Spartans earned Academic All-Big Ten honors, tying for the most selections by any conference institution.

When Smith arrived in East Lansing, he brought with him a reputation as a program builder from his previous head-coaching tenures at Idaho, Utah State and Louisville. He has only enhanced that track record at Michigan State, earning the Dave McClain Coach of the Year award as selected by the Big Ten media panel. Smith, who inherited a team that went 4-8 in 2002, orchestrated the nation's fifth-biggest regular-season turnaround by producing an 8-4 record in 2003. After finishing eighth in the league with a 2-6 mark in 2002, the Spartans climbed to fourth in the final Big Ten standings at 5-3.

His eight wins marked the most by a first-year coach in school history. Smith also became only the second first-year coach in Spartan history to earn a postseason bowl bid (Alamo Bowl vs. Nebraska), joining Nick Saban who guided the 1995 team to a 6-5-1 record including a trip to the Independence Bowl.

Michigan State opened the 2003 campaign with a 7-1 record — its best start since 1966. The Spartans put together a five-game winning streak that featured victories over three ranked opponents: Notre Dame (NR/No. 23), Iowa (No. 13/9) and Minnesota (No. 25/19). Following its 44-38 victory at Minnesota, Michigan State ascended to No. 9 in The Associated Press poll — its first appearance in the AP Top 10 since the 1999 season. In addition, the Spartans opened Big Ten play 4-0 for just the third time since joining the league in 1953.

Smith, who became the University's 23rd head coach on Dec. 19, 2002, wasted little time injecting doses of confidence and fiery competitiveness. His influences were evident in all three phases of the game. Smoker thrived in the spread offense, leading the Big Ten in both passing (261.2 yards per game) and total offense (252.2 ypg.). Thanks to his aggressive defensive philosophy, the Spartans led the Big Ten in sacks (45 for 299 yards) and takeaways (29) while finishing second in turnover margin (+11). Michigan State boasted arguably one of the nation's best kicking tandems, in punter Brandon Fields (No. 2 in NCAA with 46.3 avg.) and placekicker Dave Rayner (No. 10 in NCAA with school-record 22 made field goals). In addition, All-American DeAndre Cobb ranked No. 11 nationally in kickoff returns with his 27.2-yard average, including an NCAA record-tying three runbacks for touchdowns.

The 57-year-old Smith has compiled a 128-78 record (.621) in 17 years as a college head coach, including an impressive 82-38 mark (.683) in conference games. He ranks No. 14 among active NCAA I-A football coaches in career victories (128). Smith has produced six conference champions (two Conference USA, two Big West and two Big Sky). Twelve of his 17 teams have participated in postseason play, including seven-straight bowl appearances from 1997-2003. Smith is one of 19 head coaches in college football history to take three different teams to bowl games, including one of just four active coaches to accomplish this feat (Mack Brown: Tulane, North Carolina and Texas; Dennis Franchione: New Mexico, TCU, Alabama and Texas A&M; and Steve Spurrier: Duke, Florida and South Carolina).

Smith came to Michigan State following five seasons at Louisville (1998-2002) where he led the Cardinals to unprecedented success. He put together a 41-21 worksheet (.661), including five-straight bowl appearances and back-to-back Conference USA titles in 2000-01. The five bowl trips equaled the number of postseason appearances Louisville had made prior to his arrival and the five-consecutive winning seasons marked a first for the program.

- The 2002 Cardinals went 7-6 overall, including a 38-15 loss to Marshall in the GMAC Bowl. Louisville finished third in the C-USA standings at 5-3, one game behind co-champions Texas Christian and Cincinnati. The highlight of the 2002 season came on Sept. 26 when the Cardinals knocked off No. 4 Florida State in overtime, 26-20. Louisville ranked among the NCAA leaders in rushing defense (No. 17 at 113.0 ypg.) and total defense (No. 22 at 319.9 ypg.). The Cardinals produced a league-best six first-team All-Conference USA selections, including Offensive Player of the Year Dave Ragone (quarterback) and Special Teams Player of the Year Broderick Clark (kick returner).

- In 2001, Smith earned Conference USA Coach of the Year honors after leading Louisville to a school-record 11 victories, including a 28-10 triumph over Brigham Young in the Liberty Bowl. Louisville became the first program in C-USA history to win back-to-back league titles while Ragone and defensive end Dewayne White became the first C-USA players from the same school to receive offensive and defensive player of the year honors in the same season. The Cardinals were ranked among The Associated Press Top 25 for seven-straight weeks, finishing No. 17 (No. 16 in USA Today/ESPN final poll).

- The 2000 team won its last four regular-season games to claim Louisville's first Conference USA championship and a berth in the Liberty Bowl. Louisville finished 9-3 overall, posting its most wins since 1993, while also making its first appearance in the national polls in seven years. For his efforts, the Football Writers Association of America named Smith one of three finalists for the Eddie Robinson Coach of the Year Award. The 2000 Cardinals featured a high-scoring offense and a relentless defense. Louisville averaged better than 35 points per game during the regular season, scoring touchdowns 73 percent of the time it reached the red zone. The Cardinals also ranked among the NCAA's leaders in rushing defense (No. 4) and total defense (No. 15). Louisville's defense led the nation in turnovers forced with 37, including 10 interceptions from All-America safety Anthony Floyd.

- In 1999, Louisville won four of its last five regular-season games en route to a 7-5 record overall, 4-2 in C-USA play. For the second year in a row, the Cardinals were listed among the nation's top 10 in scoring, passing offense and total offense. Six players earned first-team All-Conference USA honors while five rookies were named to the all-freshman team.

- The revival of Louisville's football program began in 1998. Smith, who inherited a team that went winless in the league and finished 1-10 in 1997, produced the biggest turnaround among NCAA I-A programs in 1998 by guiding the Cardinals to a 7-5 record overall, 4-2 in C-USA action. Louisville led the nation in total offense, averaging 559.6 yards per game, while also ranking among the NCAA leaders in passing offense (No. 3 at 408.9 ypg.) and scoring (No. 6 at 40.4 ppg.). The Cardinals topped the 50-point mark four times in 1998, including three 60-point games. Quarterback Chris Redman finished second in the nation in total offense, averaging 400.9 yards per game. Louisville broke or tied 84 school or C-USA records in Smith's first season.

Prior to his appointment at Louisville, Smith posted a 16-18 ledger (.471) in three seasons at Utah State. He took over a Utah State program that had produced only two winning seasons in the previous 15 years and led the Aggies to consecutive Big West Conference crowns in 1996-97, finishing 6-5 and 6-6, respectively.

In 1997, Utah State won four of its last five regular-season games and earned a trip to the Humanitarian Bowl. It marked the program's second bowl appearance since 1961. In 1997, the Aggies were listed among the NCAA leaders in total offense (No. 9 at 449.4 yards per game), passing offense (No. 14 at 280.5 ypg.), scoring offense (No. 17 at 33.6 points) and rushing defense (No. 25 at 115.6 ypg.).

In 1996, Utah State forged a 6-5 overall mark despite facing a demanding non-league schedule, with home games against Utah and Brigham Young and road contests at Southern Miss, Oklahoma State and Texas Tech. The Aggies ranked among the nation's top 10 in passing offense (No. 7 at 317.5 yards per game) and total offense (No. 9 at 468.5 ypg.).

The Aggies compiled a 4-7 record overall in 1995 but narrowly missed posting a winning season, losing four games by a combined total of 14 points. Smith's one-back offense produced impressive numbers in 1995, with Utah State ranking among the NCAA leaders in passing offense (No. 14 at 270.5 ypg.) and total offense (No. 16 at 434.2). The defense certainly did its share to keep the Aggies in the Big West title race, allowing fewer than 16 points per game in league play. Utah State finished among the league leaders in every defensive category – second in total defense, second in passing defense and third in rushing defense.

A native of Idaho Falls, Idaho, Smith arrived at Utah State following six seasons at the University of Idaho where he became the winningest coach in school history. His six-year mark of 53-21 (.716) at Idaho included a 34-11 Big Sky Conference record (.756) and five postseason appearances, including three-straight trips to the NCAA I-AA playoffs from 1992-94. Those five playoff teams also finished the year ranked among the nation's top 20.

His 1994 team won its first seven games, including a 48-38 road victory over eventual Big West Conference champion UNLV, en route to a 9-3 record, a trip to the I-AA playoffs and No. 8 final ranking.

His 1993 squad climbed to No. 1 in the polls following a 28-17 victory at Utah. Idaho lost to eventual national champion Youngstown State, 35-16, in the I-AA semifinals to end up 11-3 (No. 11 final ranking). The Vandals led the nation in both scoring (47.5 points) and total offense (532.0 yards).

His 1992 team won the Big Sky Conference title with a 6-1 record, finished the year ranked fifth nationally and its 9-3 ledger included an impressive road victory over Colorado State, 37-34. Idaho again was listed among the national leaders in total offense (second at 490.0 yards) and scoring (third at 40.6 points).

His 1991 ballclub went 6-5 and ranked second nationally in passing offense (336.3 yards) and third in total offense (482.4 yards).

His 1990 team put together a seven-game winning streak on its way to a 9-4 record and No. 13 national ranking. Idaho lost to eventual national champion Georgia Southern, 28-27, in the I-AA quarterfinals. The Vandals ranked among the national leaders in scoring (second at 37.2 points) and total offense (fifth at 454.6 yards).

His 1989 team won a school-record nine-straight games and became the first team in Big Sky Conference history to complete the league schedule with a perfect 8-0 record. The team finished the year ranked fourth nationally at 9-3.

Smith tutored 12 first-team All-Americans at Idaho, including Walter Payton Award (I-AA Player of the Year) winners John Friesz (1989) and Doug Nussmeier (1993).

Prior to taking over the Idaho head coaching position, Smith spent two years as the defensive coordinator and assistant head coach at Washington State (1987-88) where he served under former Miami (Fla.) and Oregon State head coach Dennis Erickson, now in his first year of a second stint as head coach at Idaho. He was Erickson's defensive coordinator and assistant head coach at Wyoming during the 1986 season. Smith began his first stint at Idaho in 1982 where he again served as Erickson's defensive coordinator and assistant head coach for four years (1982-85).

His college coaching credits also include stops at Nevada (1977-81) and Montana (1972-76). During his tenure as defensive coordinator at Nevada, the Wolf Pack led the nation in total defense, scoring defense and rushing defense in 1980. He began his coaching career in 1971 as a graduate assistant at Weber State.

A linebacker and quarterback at Weber State, Smith earned Big Sky Conference scholar-athlete honors in 1971-72. He received his undergraduate degree in physical education with a minor in math in 1971. Smith earned a master's of science degree in physical education from the University of Montana in 1974.

He lettered in three sports – football, basketball and track – while attending Bonneville High School in Idaho Falls, Idaho. In 2000, Sports Illustrated recognized Smith as one of Idaho's top 100 athletes of the 20th century. For his accomplishments as both an athlete and head coach, he was inducted into the Idaho Athletics Hall of Fame in 2001.

Married to the former Diana Flora of Idaho Falls, Smith and his wife are the parents of three children, Nicholas, Kayse and Sam.

An avid country music fan, he served as a guest disc jockey for "Banana" Don Jefferson and Stephanie McCoy on Lansing's WITL Radio in April 2006. Coach Smith's suggested playlist featured selections from his favorite country music artists, including Elvis Presley, Roy Orbison, Eddy Arnold, Marty Robbins, Toby Keith, Alan Jackson, George Strait, SHeDAISY, Brooks & Dunn and Hank Williams Jr.

Smith has earned quite a reputation for his thrill-seeking adventures. Perhaps, a message hanging on the wall behind his desk in the Duffy Daugherty Football Building provides the best insight into his daredevil mentality: "Life is not measured by the number of breaths we take, but by the moments that take our breath away."

Here are brief recaps of Smith's most recent adventures:

- In July 2005, Smith went paragliding with his children off the Matterhorn in Zermatt, Switzerland.
- In July 2004, he took his entire family on a wildlife photo safari in Kenya. Smith and his sons left the safari early and traveled to Tanzania to climb a 19,340-foot peak on Mount Kilimanjaro.
- In December 2003, Smith participated in an orientation flight on a T-38 Talon at Randolph Air Force Base, Texas.
- In 2002, he skydived from a Cessna at 14,000 feet over Greensburg, Ind.
- In 2001, Smith ran with the bulls in Pamplona, Spain.
- In 2000, he went through basic training for officers with the U.S. Marines in Quantico, Va.

DAVE BALDWIN
OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/
TIGHT ENDS
FOURTH SEASON

Former San Jose State and Cal State Northridge head coach Dave Baldwin begins his fourth season as Michigan State's offensive coordinator and tight ends coach.

In 2005, Michigan State ranked among the NCAA leaders in all four offensive categories: No. 20 in rushing offense (201.8 yards per game), No. 11 in passing offense (school-record 295.5 ypg.), No. 5 in total offense (school-record 497.3 ypg.) and No. 18 in scoring offense (33.8 points per game). The Spartans finished second in the Big Ten in passing offense and total offense while ranking third in rushing offense and fourth in scoring offense. Michigan State's per game averages for passing offense (No. 10) and total offense (No. 4) rank among the Top 10 season totals in Big Ten history.

All told, the 2005 Spartans produced top 10 MSU single-season totals in six different offensive categories, including first downs (No. 1: 284), total yards per game (No. 1: 497.3 ypg.), total offense (No. 2: 5,470 total yards), passing yards (No. 3: 3,250), total points (No. 4: 372) and scoring average (No. 5: 33.8 ppg.).

In 2005, Drew Stanton became just the second quarterback in Spartan history to reach the 3,000-yard passing milestone in a season, joining Jeff Smoker who threw for 3,395 yards in 2003. Stanton completed 236-of-354 throws (.667) for 3,077 yards and a school-record 22 touchdowns. He ranked second in the Big Ten and No. 10 in the NCAA in passing efficiency with his 153.4 rating.

A key to Stanton's throwing success in 2005 was his ability to utilize all of the weapons at his disposal as Michigan State ranked as the only NCAA I-A team to have five players with at least 400 receiving yards each.

The Spartans amassed a school-record 705 total yards in a 61-14 victory over Illinois in the 2005 Big Ten opener, breaking the previous single-game mark of 698 against Purdue in 1971. The 705 total yards also marked the third-best single-game figure for a league game in Big Ten history. The 61 points marked the Spartans' highest total since scoring 76 against Northwestern in 1989. In addition, MSU tied the Big Ten single-game record with seven TD passes.

In 2004, Michigan State's offense thrived under Stanton as Baldwin tweaked the spread package to take full advantage of the first-year starter's running ability. The Spartans led the Big Ten and ranked No. 10 in the NCAA in total offense (460.0 yards per game) while piling up a school single-season record 5,520 total yards. In addition, Michigan State finished second in the Big Ten and No. 10 nationally in rushing, averaging 238.5 yards per game. In Big Ten play, the Spartans rushed for a league-best 265.8 yards per game. The 2,862 rushing yards in 2004 mark the sixth-best single-season total in Spartan history.

In its 2004 preseason publication, The Sporting News ranked the 51-year-old Baldwin as the Big Ten's top offensive coordinator.

As tight ends coach, Baldwin also was instrumental in the development of Jason Randall, who earned second-team All-Big Ten honors from the league coaches in 2004.

In 2003, Baldwin earned national recognition for how quickly he helped Smoker grasp the spread offense. Smoker, a second-team All-Big Ten selection, led the league in passing (261.2 ypg.) and total offense (252.2 ypg.). His 302 pass completions, 488 pass attempts and 3,395 passing yards all represent the top single-season totals in Spartan history.

Michigan State amassed a school single-season record 3,510 passing yards in 2003. The Spartans also produced 363 total points and 4,776 total yards – the fifth- and sixth-best single-season figures in Spartan history, respectively. Another key to Michigan State's remarkable turnaround was the offense's ability to take care of the football. The Spartans committed just 18 turnovers – the Big Ten's fourth-lowest total (No. 15 in the NCAA). In 2003, Michigan State played five complete games without committing a turnover, including a streak of four straight contests (Iowa, Indiana, Illinois and Minnesota).

Baldwin came to Michigan State following one season at Baylor where he served as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach under Kevin Steele.

Baldwin spent the 2001 season as offensive coordinator at Cincinnati under Rick Minter, helping the Bearcats to a 7-5 record and a trip to the Motor City Bowl. Cincinnati ranked among the Conference USA leaders in every offensive category, finishing second in passing offense (269.8 yards per game), third in total offense (416.3 yards), third in scoring offense (29.1 points) and fourth in rushing offense (146.5 yards). The Bearcats also were listed among the national leaders in passing offense (No. 25), total offense (No. 36) and scoring offense (No. 36). Baldwin coached 2001 C-USA Freshman of the Year Gino Guidugli, who finished second in the league in passing (257.3 yards) and third in passing efficiency (137.5 rating). Cincinnati's offense also produced C-USA's leading receiver in LaDaris Vann, who caught 6.64 passes per game.

Baldwin previously served as head coach and offensive play-caller at San Jose State for four years (1997-2000), where he compiled an 18-27 record (.400), including three straight wins over Stanford (1998-2000).

In 2000, San Jose State produced a 7-5 worksheet – its best mark in eight years – including victories over Stanford (40-27) and ninth-ranked Texas Christian (27-24) that ended the nation's longest winning streak at 12 games. The Spartans ranked among the NCAA leaders in every offensive category in 2000, finishing No. 26 in rushing offense (189.1 yards per game), No. 26 in total offense (417.3 yards), No. 30 in scoring offense (31.2 points) and No. 40 in passing offense (228.3 yards). San Jose State's offense also featured the nation's fourth-leading rusher in Deonce Whitaker, who averaged 157.7 yards per game.

His 1999 San Jose State team knocked off Rose Bowl-bound Stanford, 44-39.

San Jose State opened the 1998 season with a 35-23 victory at Stanford – its first win over a Pac-10 opponent in eight years.

His 1997 Spartan squad produced a 4-7 record overall, including a 4-4 mark in Western Athletic Conference play. It marked the first time in four years that the Spartans had reached the .500 mark in league games. In 1997, San Jose State also posted its first win over a ranked opponent since 1990, upsetting No. 24 Air Force, 25-22.

Prior to taking over the San Jose State head coaching position, Baldwin posted a 9-12 record (.429) in two seasons at Cal State Northridge (1995-96). In 1996, he guided Cal State Northridge to a 7-4 mark – the school's first winning season in four years at the NCAA I-AA level.

Baldwin produced a 31-21 record (.596) in five years as a head coach at the junior college level. In 1994, he led Santa Rosa (Calif.) Junior College to an 8-3 ledger, including a trip to the Lions Bowl. He went 23-18 (.561) in four seasons at Santa Barbara City College (1990-93). In 1991, Baldwin earned California Community College Region III Coach of the Year honors after helping the Vaqueros to a 9-2 record and a berth in the Potato Bowl.

He spent 10 years as an assistant coach under Jack Elway, first as a graduate assistant at Cal State Northridge in 1979 and then as receivers coach at San Jose State for four years (1981-84) and Stanford for four seasons (1985-88). While coaching at San Jose State, he also worked alongside offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach Dennis Erickson. In 1988, Baldwin became the Cardinal passing game coordinator.

The 1986 Stanford team finished 8-4 and earned a trip to the Gator Bowl. It marked the only postseason appearance for the Cardinal in the 1980s.

During his four-year stint as an assistant at San Jose State, the Spartans produced three winning seasons, including the 1981 Pacific Coast Athletic Association championship and a berth in the California Raisin Bowl.

He began his coaching career in 1978 as an assistant coach at Granada Hills (Calif.) High School.

Baldwin earned his bachelor's degree in physical education, health and recreation from Cal State Northridge in 1978. He received a master's degree in physical education administration from St. Mary's College (Calif.) in 1986.

Married to the former Kathleen Keiley, Baldwin and his wife are the parents of three children: Sean (27), Ryan (22) and Keiley (19). Kathleen is a special education instructor at East Lansing High School.

BLAINE BENNETT
ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/
WIDE RECEIVERS
FIRST SEASON

Blaine Bennett, who spent the last five seasons as quarterbacks coach at Purdue, is in his first year as assistant head coach and wide receivers coach at Michigan State. It marks Bennett's second stint as an assistant coach under John L. Smith; his first came as wide receivers coach at Idaho in 1991.

The 41-year-old Bennett helped Purdue to a combined record of 34-27 (.557), including four-straight bowl appearances from 2001-04. In addition to his responsibilities as quarterbacks coach, he served as the recruiting coordinator for head coach Joe Tiller. At Purdue, his recruiting areas included northeast and southern Ohio, Pennsylvania, southern Indiana, Kentucky and Dallas-Fort Worth.

In 2004, the Boilermakers led the Big Ten in passing offense (321.2 yards per game) and scoring offense (31.8 points per game) while finishing second in total offense (446.5 ypg.). In addition, Purdue ranked among the NCAA leaders in those three categories: No. 4 in passing offense, No. 13 in total offense and No. 20 in scoring offense.

In 2002, Purdue led the league and ranked seventh in the NCAA in total offense, averaging 452.2 ypg.

During his tenure in West Lafayette, Ind., Bennett tutored four-year starter Kyle Orton, who finished his career ranked second in Purdue history in total offense (9,653 yards) and third in passing yards (9,337) and passing touchdowns (63). Orton ranks fourth in Big Ten history in passing yards and total offense. As a senior, he completed 61 percent of his throws (236-389) for 3,090 yards and 31 TDs. In 2004, Orton also ranked among the NCAA's top 10 in total offense (No. 8 at 291.1 ypg.) and passing efficiency (No. 10 with a 151.1 rating). Orton, who was selected by the Chicago Bears in the fourth round of the 2005 NFL Draft, started 15 games as a rookie, passing for 1,869 yards and nine TDs.

Prior to his appointment at Purdue, Bennett compiled a 27-32 record (.458) in six years as head coach at Western Oregon (1995-2000). In 2000, he posted a 6-5 record as the Wolves completed the transition from NAIA to NCAA Division II status. Chuck Driesbach, who has 15 years experience as a defensive coordinator in five different conferences, is in his second year as secondary coach at Michigan State.

The 53-year-old Driesbach came to Michigan State following three years as defensive coordinator at Ole Miss (2002-04) where he worked under David Cutcliffe. He coached the Rebel linebackers for two seasons (2002 and 2004) and supervised the secondary in 2003.

In 2003, Ole Miss won the Southeastern Conference Western Division title en route to a 10-3 record, including a 31-28 victory over Oklahoma State in the Cotton Bowl, and a No. 13 ranking in the final Associated Press poll. The Rebels ranked fourth in the SEC and No. 14 in the NCAA in rushing defense in 2003, allowing 102.5 yards per game. The Ole Miss defensive unit also ranked among the league leaders in tackles for losses (106), interceptions (15) and turnovers forced (25).

In 2002, the Rebels went 7-6 including a 27-23 victory over Nebraska in the Independence Bowl.

During his tenure, two Ole Miss players earned first-team All-SEC honors, including nose tackle Jesse Mitchell (2003) and linebacker Eddie Strong (2002). Driesbach also helped develop two players that were selected in the 2004 National Football League Draft: outside linebacker Charlie Anderson (Houston) and cornerback Von Hutchins (Indianapolis).

Prior to his appointment at Mississippi, Driesbach spent the 2001 season at TCU where he served as defensive coordinator and inside linebackers coach under Gary Patterson. The Horned Frogs finished 6-6 in 2001, including an appearance in the Galleryfurniture.com Bowl (vs. Texas A&M). In 2001, TCU ranked among the NCAA leaders in both rushing defense (No. 10 at 93.8 yards per game) and total defense (No. 24 at 322.5 ypg.). Driesbach tutored linebacker LaMarcus McDonald, a second-team all-league selection in 2001 who went on to be named Conference USA Defensive Player of the Year in 2002.

He served as defensive coordinator for four years under Gary Darnell at Western Michigan (1997-2000), helping the Broncos win back-to-back Mid-American Conference West Division titles in 1999-2000. Driesbach worked with the Bronco outside linebackers for the first three years before taking over the safeties in 2000.

Western Michigan recorded three shutouts (vs. Indiana, Kent State and Eastern Michigan) on its way to a 9-3 overall record in 2000. The Broncos also snapped the nation's longest home winning streak at 33 games by posting a 30-10 victory over Marshall in Huntington, W.Va. Western Michigan ranked among the NCAA leaders in scoring defense (No. 4 at 11.6 points per game), total defense (No. 9 at 283.3 ypg.) and rushing defense (No. 20 at 105.3 ypg.) in 2000. The Broncos held seven opponents below the 100-yard rushing mark, while four opponents failed to throw for 100 yards in a game. For his efforts in 2000, Driesbach was nominated for the Frank Broyles Award, which is named in honor of the former Arkansas head coach and presented annually to the nation's top assistant football coach.

In his final season at Western Michigan, Driesbach worked with defensive end Jason Babin, who became the only true freshman on the Bronco roster to letter in 2000. Babin went on to earn All-America honors as a senior in 2003 and became the first player in WMU history to be selected in the first round of the NFL Draft, going to Houston (No. 27 overall) in 2004.

In 1997, he played a major role in helping Western Michigan post the nation's biggest turnaround, producing an 8-3 record after finishing just 2-9 in 1996.

Driesbach spent four years as defensive coordinator under John Majors at Pittsburgh (1993-96) where his pupils included three future NFL players: defensive back Anthony Dorsett Jr. (Houston, 1996; Tennessee, 1997-99; and Oakland, 2000-03), linebacker Tom Tumulty (Cincinnati, 1996-99) and defensive tackle Mike Mohring (San Diego, 1997-2001; and Oakland, 2002).

He worked for three years as defensive coordinator under Jim Hofher at Cornell (1990-92), where he helped the Big Red to a combined record of 19-11 (.633), including the 1990 Ivy League championship.

In 1989, Driesbach began his first stint at Ole Miss where he coached the defensive secondary for Billy Brewer. The Rebels finished 8-4 in 1989, including a 42-29 victory over Air Force in the Liberty Bowl.

His college coaching credits include a two-year stop at East Carolina (1987-88) where he worked with the running backs in addition to performing the duties of admissions and academic coordinator for head coach Art Baker. While on the ECU coaching staff, Driesbach recruited linebacker Robert Jones, who later became a consensus All-American and Butkus Award finalist in 1991 and a first-round pick (No. 24 overall) by Dallas in the 1992 NFL Draft.

Driesbach spent three seasons at Wake Forest (1984-86) where he coached on both sides of the football for Al Groh. He worked with the defensive line for two years before overseeing the receivers and tight ends in 1986. During his tenure with the Demon Deacons, Driesbach tutored three future NFL players, including defensive lineman Gary Baldinger (Kansas City, 1986-88; Indianapolis, 1989; and Buffalo, 1990-92), tight end Greg Scales (New Orleans, 1988-91) and wide receiver Ricky Proehl (Phoenix/Arizona, 1990-94; Seattle, 1995-96; Chicago, 1997; St. Louis, 1998-2002; and Carolina, 2003-05).

He began his coaching career at Kansas State where he spent eight seasons (1976-83), including three years as a graduate assistant under Ellis Rainsburger and five more as a full-time assistant under Jim Dickey. As a graduate assistant, Driesbach worked primarily with the tight ends and receivers, including future NFL All-Pro Paul Coffman (Green Bay, 1978-85; and Kansas City, 1986-87).

From 1979-83, Driesbach coached the Wildcat defensive secondary. In 1982, Kansas State (6-5-1) made its first-ever postseason appearance, earning a trip to the Independence Bowl (vs. Wisconsin). In 1980, the Wildcats led the NCAA in pass defense, allowing just 91.4 yards per game.

During his stay in Manhattan, Kan., Driesbach recruited three future pros, including wide receivers Eugene Goodlow (New Orleans, 1983-86) and Gerald Alphin (New Orleans, 1990-91) and tailback Tony Jordan (Phoenix, 1989-90).

A native of Philadelphia, Pa., Driesbach was a three-year starter at wide receiver for Coach Lou Ferry at Villanova (1972-74). He earned a bachelor's degree in liberal arts from Villanova in 1975.

Married to the former Kim Widmer of Coffeyville, Kan., Driesbach and his wife have two daughters: Lindsay, who is scheduled to graduate from Michigan State in December 2006 with a bachelor's degree in communication, and Kate, a senior communications major at Ole Miss. DERRICK JACKSON
DEFENSIVE LINE
FIRST SEASON

Derrick Jackson, who spent the 2005 season on the Northern Illinois coaching staff, begins his first season as defensive line coach at Michigan State.

The 36-year-old Jackson comes to Michigan State following one year as the defensive interior line coach at Northern Illinois where he worked under Joe Novak. The Huskies (7-5 overall) won a share of the Mid-American Conference West Division title in 2005 and played in the MAC Championship Game. Northern Illinois ranked second in the MAC in scoring defense, allowing 22.8 points per game. In 2005, Jackson tutored defensive tackle Quince Holman, who earned first-team All-MAC honors after recording 12 tackles for losses including five sacks. In addition, nose tackle Brad Benson was named to the Academic All-MAC Team.

Prior to his appointment at Northern Illinois, Jackson worked for two years as the defensive line coach at Eastern Illinois (2003-04) under Bob Spoo. In 2003, the Panthers led the Ohio Valley Conference in scoring defense (22.3 ppg.) and in 2004, EIU ranked No. 18 among NCAA I-AA teams in rushing defense (114.3 yards per game). In 2004, Jackson helped develop defensive tackle Marcus Lorick, who earned second-team All-America honors from the Associated Press and The Sports Network. Another one of his pupils – defensive end Kory Lothe – became a two-time second-team All-OVC selection. Lothe led the OVC with six sacks in 2004.

His coaching credits include a two-year stint at the U.S. Military Academy (2001-02) where he coached the defensive ends under Todd Berry. At West Point (N.Y.), Jackson helped produce two stellar defensive ends: Clarence Holmes, who set Army's single-season (7 in 2001) and career (11.5) records for sacks, and Brandon Perdue, who earned first-team Academic All-America honors in 2001.

Jackson has participated in the National Football League's Minority Coaching Fellowship Program, working summers for the 2002 Super Bowl champion Tampa Bay Buccaneers and the 2001 Miami Dolphins.

After spending six years in the private sector, Jackson began his coaching career as a graduate assistant and tight ends coach for Glenn Spencer at West Georgia (1999-2000). In 2000, the Braves posted a 10-2 overall record, tied for the Gulf South Conference championship and qualified for the NCAA Division II playoffs.

In just seven seasons coaching in the collegiate ranks, Jackson already has earned himself a reputation as a tireless recruiter. At Northern Illinois, his recruiting areas included St. Louis, Mo., as well as northern and central Florida. At Eastern Illinois, he recruited Chicago's Outer Loop, while at Army, he primarily scouted prospects on the East Coast. At West Georgia, Jackson had recruiting responsibilities in Metro Atlanta.

A native of Long Valley, N.J., Jackson was a four-year starter at safety for Duke where he played for Steve Spurrier (1989) and Barry Wilson (1990-92). He started 40 consecutive games for the Blue Devils, recording 262 career tackles and six career interceptions. His 262 career tackles ranked No. 8 on Duke's all-time list. He was selected as the team's Most Outstanding Defensive Back in both 1991 and 1992. Jackson started as a red-shirt freshman on the 1989 Duke team that posted an 8-4 record, claimed a share of the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and earned a trip to the All-American Bowl.

Jackson earned a bachelor's degree in history from Duke in 1993.

He lettered in three sports – football, basketball and track – while attending West Morris Central High School in Chester, N.J. As a senior, Jackson helped West Morris Central to a 9-2 record and a second-place finish in the Group III state playoffs while earning first-team all-state honors from the New Jersey Football Coaches Association.

In July 2006, Jackson married the former Renae Stahl of Defiance, Ohio.

CHRIS SMELAND
DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/SAFETIES
FOURTH SEASON

Chris Smeland begins his fourth season as defensive coordinator and safeties coach at Michigan State. Smeland has been a defensive coordinator for 23 years, including the last 11 seasons under head coach John L. Smith.

In 2005, strong safety Eric Smith earned team MVP honors after leading the Spartans in tackles (101) and production points (204). Smith, a second-team All-Big Ten selection by the coaches, was chosen in the third round of the 2006 National League Football Draft by the New York Jets. In addition, Smeland recruited Spartan defensive tackle Domata Peko, who was selected by the Cincinnati Bengals in the fourth round of the 2006 NFL Draft.

In 2004, Smith and Jason Harmon combined to account for 220 tackles from their safety positions. Smith finished second on the team with 115 tackles, while Harmon ranked third with 105 stops. In 2003, Harmon led the team in tackles (108) and production points (159).

Under Smeland's leadership, the Spartan defense played a major role in the team's remarkable turnaround in 2003. Michigan State led the Big Ten in sacks (45 for 299 yards), takeaways (29) and interceptions (15). The Spartans also ranked among the Big Ten (sixth) and NCAA leaders (27th) in rushing defense, allowing only 124.8 yards per game. In 2003, Michigan State held four opponents under the 100-yard rushing mark while permitting just nine rushing touchdowns.

The Spartans displayed dramatic improvement on the defensive side of the football in 2003, especially when you consider Smeland inherited a unit that ranked ninth in the Big Ten and No. 110 nationally (out of 117) in rushing defense in 2002, surrendering 213.8 yards per game. The 2002 Spartans also finished ninth in the Big Ten in sacks (19 for 113 yards) and takeaways (19).

The 55-year-old Smeland played an integral part in helping Louisville to a combined record of 41-21 (.661), including five-straight bowl appearances and back-to-back Conference USA championships in 2000-01. He helped develop players who earned All-Conference USA honors 16 times, including seven first-team selections.

From 2000-02, Louisville's defense produced an NCAA-best 132 sacks to go along with 86 takeaways, including 54 interceptions.

In 2002, the Cardinals ranked among the NCAA leaders in rushing defense (No. 17 at 113.0 yards per game) and total defense (No. 22 at 319.9 ypg.).

In 2001, the Cardinals finished No. 10 nationally in scoring defense, permitting 17.8 points per game.

In 2000, Louisville ranked among the NCAA leaders in rushing defense (No. 4) and total defense (No. 15) while forcing a nation-best 37 turnovers. All-America safety Anthony Floyd led the NCAA with 10 interceptions (tied Akron's Dwight Smith).

During his three-year stint at Utah State (1995-97), the Aggies won consecutive Big West Conference crowns in 1996-97. Smeland tutored six first-team All-Big West selections.

In 1997, Utah State led the Big West in every defensive category and finished No. 25 nationally in rushing defense, allowing only 115.6 yards per game.

In 1995, the Aggies also ranked among the league leaders in every defensive category – finishing second in total defense, second in passing defense and third in rushing defense. Utah State allowed fewer than 16 points per game in conference play.

Smeland spent four years on the Hawaii coaching staff (1991-94), working with the inside and outside linebackers in 1991 before being elevated to defensive coordinator in 1992. The Rainbows won a share of the Western Athletic Conference championship in 1992 and finished 11-2 overall, including a 27-17 Holiday Bowl triumph over Illinois, thanks in part to a defensive unit which ranked second in the league in rushing defense (167.2 yards). Smeland tutored two first-team All-WAC selections during his tenure, including nose guard Maa Tanuvasa (1992) and linebacker Junior Faavae (1994).

He previously served as defensive coordinator at Kent State (1988-90) and Cal Poly San Luis Obispo (1982-87). His coaching credits also include stops at Nevada (offensive line, 1979-81), Colorado (outside linebackers, 1978) and Southwestern Louisiana (inside linebackers, 1977).

A four-year letterman as a defensive back at Cal Poly SLO (1970-73), Smeland earned all-conference and All-Little Coast honors as a senior. He also served as team captain in 1973.

Smeland graduated from Cal Poly SLO in 1974 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He received his MBA in finance from Colorado in 1976.

Married to the former Barbara Carlsen of Carson City, Nev., Smeland and his wife have three children – Jamie Christine (22), Kathleen Nicole (20) and Kristen Kelly (13).

JEFF STOUTLAND
OFFENSIVE LINE
SEVENTH SEASON

Jeff Stoutland begins his seventh year as offensive line coach at Michigan State.

During his tenure, Stoutland has helped develop five All-Big Ten selections: guard Shaun Mason (second team, 2000), tackle Steve Stewart (second team, 2003), guard Joe Tate (second team, 2003), tackle Sean Poole (first team, 2004) and guard William Whitticker (second team, 2004).

In addition, seven of his offensive linemen have earned Academic All-Big Ten honors, including Mason (2000), Tate (2001), guard Paul Harker (2002-03), center Chris Morris (2002-03-04-05), tackle Gordon Niebylski (2002-03-04-05), guard Pete Clifford (2004-05) and tackle Mike Gyetvai (2004). In 2005, Morris garnered ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America Second-Team honors.

Morris anchored the offensive line for one of the NCAA's most prolific offenses in 2005. The Spartans ranked among the NCAA leaders in all four offensive categories: No. 20 in rushing offense (201.8 yards per game), No. 11 in passing offense (school-record 295.5 ypg.), No. 5 in total offense (school-record 497.3 ypg.) and No. 18 in scoring offense (33.8 points per game). Morris, who earned Midseason All-America honors from SI.com, graded out 96 percent or higher in all 11 games in 2005 and became a seventh-round selection by the Oakland Raiders in the 2006 National Football League Draft.

In 2004, Poole became only the second offensive lineman in Big Ten history to earn conference Player of the Week honors after Michigan State amassed 430 yards on the ground in a 49-14 victory over fourth-ranked Wisconsin.

Michigan State displayed a vastly improved running attack in 2004, thanks largely to the speedy development of an offensive line that returned just two starters from the 2003 season. The Spartans ranked second in the Big Ten and No. 10 in the NCAA in rushing, averaging 238.5 yards per game. That marked an improvement of 141 yards per game from 2003. The 2,862 rushing yards also marked the sixth-best single-season total in school history. In Big Ten play, Michigan State rushed for a league-best 265.8 yards per game. The Spartans recorded eight 200-yard rushing games in 2004, including a streak of five-straight games during one stretch (Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota and Michigan).

In 2004, Stoutland instructed an offensive line that permitted the fewest sacks in the Big Ten, allowing only eight in 399 passing attempts.

He also coached former center Brian Ottney, who earned the Up Front Award as MSU's outstanding interior offensive lineman in 2001-02, becoming only the second repeat recipient in the 28-year history of the trophy. Former All-American Tony Mandarich won the award three-straight years from 1986-88.

Stoutland's offensive line helped pave the way for T.J. Duckett, who produced back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons in 2000 and 2001. Duckett, the No. 18 pick overall in the 2002 NFL Draft by the Atlanta Falcons, rushed for 1,420 yards in 2001 – the fifth-best single-season total in Spartan history.

The 44-year-old Stoutland spent three seasons under Paul Pasqualoni at Syracuse (1997-99), where he coached the tight ends his first two years before taking over the offensive line in 1999. In addition to his coaching duties, he also served as the Orangemen's recruiting coordinator for all three years.

Stoutland helped Syracuse to a combined record of 24-13 (.649), including three-straight bowl appearances. In 1999, he coached first-team All-Big East offensive tackle Mark

Baniewicz, who also earned the National Football Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award and GTE Academic All-America honors. During his stint as tight ends coach, Stoutland helped produce two NFL players, including Roland Williams (Oakland Raiders) and Kaseem Sinceno (Philadelphia Eagles, 1998-99; Chicago Bears, 2000).

Stoutland previously spent four years as offensive line coach at Cornell (1993-96). Former Big Red center Greg Bloedorn, who earned first-team All-Ivy League honors in 1995, spent three years with the NFL's Seattle Seahawks (1997-99).

His full-time coaching credits include two stints at his alma mater, Southern Connecticut State, where he served as offensive coordinator for five years (1988-92) and coached inside linebackers for two seasons (1984-85).

The New York City native also served as a graduate assistant for Coach Dick MacPherson for two years at Syracuse (1986-87), working primarily with the offensive line.

Stoutland was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at inside linebacker for Coach Kevin Gilbride at Southern Connecticut State (1980-84), where he earned Little All-America honors as a senior while acting as team captain.

He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Southern Connecticut State in 1984 and received a master's degree in exercise physiology from the school in 1986.

Stoutland and his wife, Allison, who authors children's books, have two children: Jake (11) and Madison (9).

SPARTANS FEATURED RECORD-SETTING OFFENSIVE ATTACK

Michigan State ranked among the NCAA leaders in all four offensive categories: No. 20 in rushing offense (201.8 yards per game), No. 11 in passing offense (school-record 295.5 ypg.), No. 5 in total offense (school-record 497.3 ypg.) and No. 18 in scoring offense (33.8 points per game). The Spartans finished second in the Big Ten in passing offense and total offense while ranking third in rushing offense and fourth in scoring offense. Michigan State's per game averages for passing offense (No. 10) and total offense (No. 4) rank among the Top 10 season totals in Big Ten history.

The Spartans amassed a school-record 705 total yards in a 61-14 victory over Illinois in the Big Ten opener, breaking the previous single-game mark of 698 against Purdue in 1971. The 705 total yards also marked the third-best single-game figure for a league game in Big Ten history. The 61 points marked the Spartans' highest total since scoring 76 against Northwestern in 1989. In addition, MSU tied the Big Ten single-game record with seven TD passes.

In 2005, Drew Stanton became just the second quarterback in Spartan history to reach the 3,000-yard passing milestone in a season, joining Jeff Smoker who threw for 3,395 yards in 2003. The 6-foot-3, 222-pound Stanton completed 236-of-354 throws (.667) for 3,077 yards, a school-record 22 touchdowns and 12 interceptions. He ranked second in the Big Ten and No. 10 in the NCAA in passing efficiency with his 153.4 rating. Drew Stanton, one of 15 semifinalists for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award, finished second in the Big Ten and No. 8 in the NCAA in total offense, averaging 310.5 yards per game. He also ranked second in the league in TD passes (22) and passing yards (279.7 per game).

The Spartans featured a well-balanced ground attack as freshman Javon Ringer, sophomore Jehuu Caulcrick and senior Jason Teague combined to rush for 1,715 yards and 16 TDs on 289 attempts.

The 5-9, 195-pound Ringer paced the ground game with 817 yards (122 carries) – the second-best single-season rushing total by a true freshman in Spartan history. He finished eighth in the Big Ten in rushing, averaging 74.3 yards per game. Ringer averaged an impressive 6.7 yards per carry and scored five TDs.

He recorded three 100-yard rushing games in 2005, including back-to-back efforts against Northwestern (18 carries for 104 yards) and Indiana (11 for 109). Ringer became the first Spartan true freshman to produce consecutive 100-yard games since Sedrick Irvin in 1996. He scored on a 45-yard run in the third quarter against Indiana. The Dayton, Ohio, native rushed for a Spartan-freshman record 194 yards on 13 carries at Illinois, including a 59-yard gallop in the third quarter that set up Stanton's school-record fifth TD pass. Ringer carried 10 times for 80 yards against Hawaii and scored on runs of 8, 41 and 15 yards.

Caulcrick rushed 89 times for 478 yards (5.4 avg.) and a team-leading seven TDs. During a midseason stretch, he scored a rushing TD in four-consecutive games (against Michigan, Ohio State, Northwestern and Indiana). The 6-0, 245-pound sophomore produced 140 yards on 14 carries in the season opener against Kent State, while scoring a career-best three TDs.

The 5-9, 193-pound Teague gained 420 yards on 78 attempts and scored four times. He rushed eight times for 72 yards (9.0 avg.) against Michigan. Teague contributed 63 yards on nine carries at Notre Dame, including a 19-yard run in overtime that gave the Spartans the 44-41 victory over the 10th-ranked Irish.

TRACKING STANTON IN THE SPARTAN RECORD BOOK

In 2005, Drew Stanton became just the second quarterback in Spartan history to reach the 3,000-yard passing milestone in a season, joining Jeff Smoker who threw for 3,395 yards in 2003. The 6-foot-3, 222-pound Stanton completed 236-of-354 throws (.667) for 3,077 yards, a school-record 22 touchdowns and 12 interceptions. He ranked second in the Big Ten and No. 10 in the NCAA in passing efficiency with his 153.4 rating. Drew Stanton, one of 15 semifinalists for the Davey O'Brien National Quarterback Award, finished second in the Big Ten and No. 8 in the NCAA in total offense, averaging 310.5 yards per game. He also ranked second in the league in TD passes (22) and passing yards (279.7 per game).

His 22 TD passes (first), 3,415 total yards (first), .667 completion percentage (second), 236 pass completions (second), 3,077 passing yards (second), 153.4 passing efficiency rating (third) and 354 pass attempts (third) all rank among the top single-season totals in Spartan history.

With 233 passing yards (23-36) against Penn State in the regular-season finale, Stanton extended his school-record streak of consecutive 200-yard passing games to 12 (including the 2004 season finale at Hawaii). He padded another record by registering his 12th-straight game with at least one TD pass, including a 15-yard scoring toss to Kerry Reed in the fourth quarter. Stanton accounted for 314 total yards against the Nittany Lions, becoming MSU's single-season leader in total offense (3,415 yards).

He produced four 300-yard passing games in 2005, including a career-best 340 yards at No. 15 Ohio State. Stanton became the first offensive player in Spartan history to earn back-to-back Big Ten Player of the Week awards (against Notre Dame and Illinois). He accounted for 375 total yards and four TDs in MSU's 44-41 overtime victory at No. 10 Notre Dame. Stanton completed 20-of-26 throws for 259 yards and a school-record five TDs in the Spartans' 61-14 victory at Illinois.

In two seasons as a starter, the Farmington Hills, Mich., native already ranks among MSU's career leaders in completion percentage (first at .657), passing efficiency rating (first at 145.3), total offense (second at 5,784 yards), TD passes (fifth at 30), pass completions (sixth at 379), passing yards (sixth at 4,717) and pass attempts (eighth at 577).

STANTON SPREADS THE BALL AROUND

A key to Drew Stanton's throwing success in 2005 was his ability to utilize all of the weapons at his disposal in Michigan State's spread offense. Five Spartans had at least 28 receptions, including Jerramy Scott (49 for 722), Matt Trannon (40 for 573), Kyle Brown (36 for 546 yards), Kerry Reed (31 for 438) and Terry Love (28 for 430). All five of those receivers had at least two touchdown grabs. Michigan State ranked as the only NCAA I-A team to have five players with at least 400 receiving yards each.

STANTON RUNS OFFENSE AT FULL THROTTLE

In Drew Stanton's 18 career starts at quarterback, Michigan State is averaging 219.6 rushing yards, 271.5 passing yards, 495.9 total yards and 33.1 points per game.

MORRIS NAMED SI.COM MIDSEASON ALL-AMERICAN

Senior center Chris Morris, who anchored the offensive line for one of the NCAA's most prolific offenses, earned Midseason All-America honors from SI.com. In 2005, Michigan State ranked among the NCAA leaders in all four offensive categories: No. 20 in rushing offense (201.8 yards per game), No. 11 in passing offense (school-record 295.5 ypg.), No. 5 in total offense (school-record 497.3 ypg.) and No. 18 in scoring offense (33.8 points per game).

The 6-foot-4, 305-pound Morris graded out 96 percent or higher in all 11 games in 2005. He graded 99 percent against Illinois as the Spartans amassed a school-record 705 total yards en route to a 61-14 victory. Morris also scored 99 percent each against Kent State in the season opener and against Minnesota. He graded 98 percent each against Michigan, Northwestern, Indiana and Penn State. Morris finished second on the team with 49 pancake blocks, including a season-best nine against Penn State in the regular-season finale.

A native of Lambertville, Mich., Morris started 36-consecutive games at center for the Spartans. He was a model of consistency, grading out 90 percent or better in 41 of 44 career games played. Morris, who recorded 186 career pancakes, allowed only one sack (against Indiana, 2005) over the last two seasons (approximately 750 passing plays).

“RED ZONE” PRODUCTION KEY

In its five victories in 2005, Michigan State scored touchdowns on 22 of its 29 possessions (.759) that have penetrated the opponent's 20-yard line. By contrast, the Spartans produced just 12 TDs in 29 trips (.414) inside the “red zone” in their six losses.

SMITTY REACHED 300-TACKLE MILESTONE

Senior strong safety Eric Smith led the team in tackles (101 total) and production points (204) in 2005 and ranked second in interceptions (2 for 16 yards). The team MVP ranked sixth in the Big Ten in tackles, averaging 9.2 per game.

Smith, a second-team All-Big Ten selection by the coaches, posted double figures in tackles five times in 2005, including 13 stops each against Notre Dame and Northwestern, 12 at Minnesota and 11 each against Michigan and Indiana. He became just the 15th player in Spartan history to reach the 300-tackle milestone with six stops at Purdue. Smith also scored the first touchdown of his career against the Boilermakers, returning a fumble 65 yards in the second quarter to give the Spartans a 21-14 halftime lead.

A four-year letterman, the 6-1, 202-pound Smith earned 36 career starts, including the last 22 in a row, and registered 323 tackles, good for No. 13 on MSU's all-time list. The Groveport, Ohio, native produced double figures in tackles 13 times. His career totals include 10.5 tackles for losses (32 yards), including four sacks (23 yards), and four interceptions (99 yards).

PEKO EMERGED AS PLAYMAKER ON D-LINE

Senior Domata Peko led the defensive line and ranked fifth on the team in tackles in 2005, with a career best 53 (32 solos, 21 assists). He finished third overall on the defensive leaderboard with 127 production points.

The 6-foot-2, 320-pound Peko produced 23 total tackles (18 solos, 5 assists) in his last three starts (against Purdue, Minnesota and Penn State). He recorded a career-high nine tackles – all solos – against Minnesota, and posted eight stops (6-2) at Purdue. Peko made six tackles (3-3) against Michigan, and his 74-yard fumble return for a touchdown in the fourth quarter tied the game at 31. He also registered the first sack of his career against the Wolverines. Peko tallied seven tackles (3-4) at Notre Dame, including 1.5 for losses (3 yards), and forced a fumble near the goal line that prevented an Irish rushing touchdown early in the third quarter.

A native of Pago Pago, American Samoa, Peko appeared in 23 games during his two-year career and recorded 67 tackles (43 solos, 24 assists).

ADAMS FOUND HOME AT BANDIT POSITION

Sophomore bandit SirDarean Adams led the team in tackles for losses (5 for 29 yards) and interceptions (3 for 54 yards) while ranking fourth in total tackles (60) and production points (86).

The 6-foot, 222-pound Adams finished off the regular-season with five tackles against Penn State and six stops at Minnesota. He registered five solo hits, including an 8-yard sack, a pass break-up and forced a fumble at Purdue. Adams made nine tackles against Michigan, and his 14-yard interception return to the Wolverine 17 early in the third quarter set up the game-tying field goal (24-24), a 26-yarder by John Goss. He produced a team-best seven tackles at Illinois, including one for a 4-yard loss. Adams returned his first career interception 30 yards for a touchdown at Notre Dame as the Spartans built a 31-17 lead early in the third quarter. He recorded a career-best 12 tackles (10 solos, 2 assists), including two for losses (14 yards), in Michigan State's 42-14 victory over Hawaii. The Bradenton, Fla., native also posted his first career sack (10 yards) midway through the third quarter against the Warriors.

Domata Peko recorded six tackles against Michigan, and his 74-yard fumble return for a touchdown in the fourth quarter tied the score at 31.

This Owosso, Mich., native revolutionized MAC's football program during his first of three stints as Aggie coach. Chester Brewer was a four-sport star at Wisconsin, earning All-Western honors in football. A defensive genius, Aggie teams posted shutouts in 49 of the 88 games Brewer coached. His greatest efforts included a 0-0 tie against Fielding Yost's 1908 Michigan team and a 17-0 shutout over Notre Dame in 1910. Brewer, who later coached at Missouri, died in 1953 at age 77.

GEORGE GAUTHIER

MSU RECORD: 4-3-0

The first Michigan State alumnus to direct an Aggie team was George Gauthier, a quarterback under John Macklin in 1912 and '13. Though the record was only 4-3, his 1918 club produced one of the most astounding upsets in Aggie history defeating Knute Rockne's first Notre Dame team which starred a sophomore back named George Gipp. A year after leaving MAC, Gauthier assumed duties as athletic director and head coach at Ohio Wesleyan, a dual position he held for 34 years. He died in 1964 at the age of 74.

GEORGE "POTSY" CLARK

MSU RECORD: 4-6-0

George "Potsy" Clark, an All-America quarterback under the legendary Bob Zuppke at Illinois, served as MAC's coach for only one season. The Aggies had a losing record, but one of those victories was a record 109-0 rout of Olivet. Among his other stops in college coaching were at Minnesota and Butler. He also served as athletic director at Nebraska, 1945-1953. Clark is probably best known as head coach of the Detroit Lions that won the 1935 NFL title. He died in 1972 at the age of 78.

RALPH YOUNG

MSU RECORD: 18-22-1

An outstanding player for both Fielding Yost at Michigan and Amos Alonzo Stagg at Chicago, the roly-poly Ralph Young coached MAC and MSC with only moderate success. However, he brought stability to a program that badly needed it, laying the foundation on which the school's athletic structure grew. MAC nearly surprised powerful Michigan in its stadium dedication game of 1924, losing 7-0. Young, who also was a fine track and field coach, is best known for his success as State's athletic director, 1923-54. He died in 1962 at the age of 72.

HARRY KIPKE

MSU RECORD: 3-4-1

Michigan football All-American Harry Kipke directed the Spartans for only one season. A Lansing (Mich.) High School graduate, he began his coaching career with a 103-0 victory over Kalamazoo College, but highlights after that were few and far between. Kipke nearly directed State to an upset victory over his alma mater, and that performance probably enticed Michigan to hire him as its coach the very next season. He died in 1972 at the age of 73.

JIM CROWLEY

MSU RECORD: 22-8-3

Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's immortal Four Horsemen, joined Michigan State's staff as its head football coach in 1929. His arrival became the catalyst which transformed a mediocre program into a nationally-respected major power for the first time since the coaching era of John Macklin. "Sleepy Jim" produced four-straight winning seasons for the Spartans. A pair of 0-0 ties against Michigan in 1930 and '31 broke State's 14-game losing streak to the Wolverines, a span which saw UM outscore MSC by a total of 392-9. A night game loss at Georgetown spoiled the Spartans' otherwise undefeated season in 1930. He was named head coach at Fordham in 1933, becoming the architect of the "Seven Blocks of Granite." Crowley died in 1986 at the age of 83.

CHARLIE BACHMAN

MSU RECORD: 70-34-10

Charlie Bachman, another Notre Dame alumnus, succeeded Jim Crowley as head football coach at Michigan State, coming to East Lansing after a successful stint at Florida. A teammate of Knute Rockne, Bachman employed the Notre Dame system and forged 10 winning seasons in 13 years. During his second season with the Spartans in 1934, he led State to an 8-1 record, which included a 16-0 victory over Michigan, the school's first since 1915. That marked the first of four-straight wins over UM. MSC posted another 8-1 regular-season record in 1937 and received the school's first bid to a postseason bowl game, the 1938 Orange Bowl. Among Bachman's greatest Spartan players were guard Sid Wagner, State's first All-American since 1915, halfback John Pingel and fullback Jack Breslin. Bachman died in 1985 at the age of 93.

CLARENCE "BIGGIE" MUNN

MSU RECORD: 54-9-2

The most successful Spartan coach of all-time in terms of winning percentage (.857) is former Minnesota All-American Clarence "Biggie" Munn. He came to MSC directly from Syracuse where he served as head coach for only one season. Despite an inauspicious 55-0 drubbing from Michigan in his Spartan debut, Munn quickly turned things around as the team ended the 1947 campaign with a 7-2 record. Workman-like progress continued the next two seasons, but then the Spartans burst onto the national scene in 1950, finishing in the Top 10 in the final wire service polls with an 8-1 mark that included victories over third-ranked Michigan and Notre Dame. Munn compiled a 27-1 worksheet over the next three years, winning back-to-back national championships in 1951 and '52 with identical 9-0 records. In 1952, Munn earned national Coach of the Year honors from the American Football Coaches Association after the Spartans produced wins over three ranked opponents, including No. 17 Penn State, No. 8 Purdue and No. 6 Notre Dame. MSC ran its winning streak to 28-straight games in 1953 before losing at Purdue, 6-0. In their first season of competition in the Big Ten, the Spartans grabbed a share of the 1953 league championship with a 5-1 record. MSC posted its third consecutive 9-win season in 1953, thanks to its 28-20 victory over UCLA in the 1954 Rose Bowl. In seven seasons at MSC, Munn produced 18 All-Americans, including the great two-way tackle Don Coleman. He was voted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1959. About a week after his team's Rose Bowl victory, Munn stepped down from coaching to assume the duties as MSC's athletics director. He served in that capacity for 18 years, building the Spartans into a nationally prominent football program. In 1971, a stroke forced Munn to retire from MSC and four years later in 1975, he died at the age of 66.

HUGH DUFFY DAUGHERTY

MSU RECORD: 109-69-5

One of the most popular coaches in the history of college football was Michigan State's personable Duffy Daugherty. An undergraduate star for Syracuse, he was a member of Biggie Munn's staff there in 1946 when State hired Munn. Daugherty served initially as line coach at MSU, tutoring such Spartan standouts as Don Coleman and Frank Kush. Then, following State's 1954 Rose Bowl victory over UCLA, Munn stepped in as athletic director and named Duffy as head coach. Daugherty's '55 club went 9-1 and received the Big Ten's Rose Bowl bid, defeating UCLA, 17-14. His greatest teams, though, came in 1965 and '66 when those two star-studded squads posted a cumulative record of 19-1-1 and two Big Ten championships. The only loss was a 14-12 defeat at the hands of UCLA in the 1966 Rose Bowl and the lone tie was the monumental 10-10 "Game of the Century" vs. Notre Dame in '66. Duffy's 1965 Spartans were a defensive juggernaut and won the No. 1 ranking in the final UPI poll. During Duffy's 19 seasons at MSU, 29 different players earned first-team All-America honors. The list included such stars as Earl Morrall, Sherman Lewis, George Webster, Clinton Jones, Gene Washington, Bubba Smith, Brad Van Pelt and Billy Joe DuPree. Daugherty's individual honors included National Coach of the Year laurels in both 1955 and '65, and induction into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1984. DENNY STOLZ

Denny Stolz, defensive coordinator under Duffy Daugherty, was the 16th man to direct Spartan football fortunes. The graduate and former head coach at Alma College started off slowly at MSU, but soon built the Spartans into a Big Ten challenger. Stolz' second club finished a half-game behind Michigan and Ohio State in the 1974 Big Ten standings, earning him conference Coach of the Year honors. The highlight that year was an unforgettable upset victory over the top-ranked Buckeyes at Spartan Stadium. His final MSU team tied for third in the conference standings with the major accomplishment an upset victory at Notre Dame. Stolz left MSU following the 1975 season. He coached at Bowling Green State, 1977-85, and then served as head coach at San Diego State, 1986-88.

DARRYL ROGERS

Darryl Rogers joined the Spartan football staff following stints at Hayward State and San Jose State in California. Like the two men who preceded him at Michigan State, Rogers' first team struggled a bit, but he bounced back big in season number two. The Spartans, who set a conference record for offensive proficiency, finished a half-game behind Michigan and Ohio State with a 6-1-1 Big Ten record. In 1978, MSU shared the Big Ten title with the Wolverines, earning Rogers Big Ten Coach of the Year honors. NCAA probation prohibited State from going to the Rose Bowl. Following the 1979 season, he left MSU for the head coaching position at Arizona State, 1980-84. Following his stint with the Sun Devils, Rogers signed as head coach of the Detroit Lions, 1985-88. During the 1991 season, he served as the head coach of the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League. He served as the athletic director at Southern Connecticut State for 10 years, retiring in 2003.

FRANK "MUDDY" WATERS

MSU RECORD: 10-23-0

Frank "Muddy" Waters became only the second former Michigan State player to coach the Spartans. The personable coach was named head man at MSU one day before his 57th birthday, following a highly successful career at Hillsdale College and Saginaw Valley State. Waters compiled a 138-46-5 record in 20 seasons at Hillsdale (1954-73) and a 25-26-2 mark in five years at Saginaw Valley (1975-79), while building the program from scratch. Three Spartans — Ray Stachowicz, Morten Andersen and James Burroughs — won All-America honors during Muddy's tenure at MSU. Thanks to his contributions to small college football in Michigan, Waters was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2000. He and his wife, Mary Lou, currently reside in East Lansing.

GEORGE PERLES

MSU RECORD: 68-67-4

Former Spartan griddier and assistant coach George Perles saw his dream of becoming head coach of the MSU football program come true when he was named to the position on Dec. 3, 1982. After posting just 10 wins in three seasons prior to his arrival, Perles helped return MSU to national prominence with two bowl appearances in his first three seasons. In 1987, Perles and the Spartans captured the Big Ten title and made the program's first Rose Bowl appearance since 1966. The Spartans topped USC, 20-17, ending the year at 9-2-1, the most victories by an MSU squad since 1966, along with a No. 8 national ranking. His efforts that season earned him Football News' Coach of the Year honors. The Rose Bowl began a string of four-straight bowl appearances which included triumphs in the 1989 Aloha and '90 John Hancock Bowls. The architect of the dominating Pittsburgh Steelers' defense during the Super Bowl years (1974-75-78-79), 50 of his players were selected in the NFL Draft, including nine first-rounders. He guided the Spartans to a Big Ten slate of 53-42-3, and to seven bowl games. (Career record reflects five 1994 wins forfeited by MSU as part of 1996 self-imposed sanctions.)

NICK SABAN

MSU RECORD: 34-24-1

Nick Saban became the 20th head football coach in MSU history on Dec. 3, 1994, following a highly successful NFL stint with the Cleveland Browns. As the Browns' defensive coordinator, he led the NFL's stingiest scoring defense in 1994 as that unit allowed the sixth-fewest points in league history. His winning ways continued at Michigan State, as he promptly became the first Spartan coach to lead his teams to bowl games in each of his first three seasons, including the 1995 Independence, '96 Sun and '97 Aloha Bowls. The Spartans returned to national prominence in 1999, going 9-2, and earning a trip to the 2000 Florida Citrus Bowl. Prior to the bowl game, Saban left to take the head coaching job at LSU. Saban previously coached at MSU, serving as an assistant coach from 1983-87, helping the Spartans to the 1987 Big Ten and '88 Rose Bowl championships.

BOBBY WILLIAMS

Bobby Williams became the 21st head coach in Spartan history when he assumed control of the team on Dec. 5, 1999, after Nick Saban left for LSU. Prior to taking over as head coach, Williams coached Michigan State's running backs for 10 years. He made his head-coaching debut on Jan. 1, 2000, and led the Spartans to a last-second victory over No. 10 Florida, 37-34, in the Florida Citrus Bowl. With MSU's 44-35 triumph over No. 20 Fresno State in the 2001 Silicon Valley Football Classic, Williams became the first head coach in Spartan football history to win his first two bowl games.

MORRIS WATTS

Michigan State veteran offensive coordinator Morris Watts served as interim head coach for the final three games of the 2002 season. Watts made his head-coaching debut on Nov. 9, 2002, and led the Spartans to a 56-21 victory at Indiana, snapping a four-game losing streak. He became the 11th head coach in school history to produce a win in his Spartan debut. Watts enjoyed three stints as MSU's offensive coordinator, holding that position for a total of 12 seasons (1986-90, 1992-94 and 1999-2002). He returned to Michigan State in 1999 following a four-year tenure as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at LSU (1995-98).

MSU RECORD: 18-18

John L. Smith became Michigan State University's 23rd head football coach on Dec. 19, 2002. Smith, who inherited a team that went 4-8 in 2002, produced an 8-4 regular-season record in 2003 and earned Dave McClain (Big Ten) Coach of the Year honors. His eight wins marked the most by a first-year coach in Spartan history. Smith came to Michigan State following five seasons at Louisville (1998-2002) where he put together a 41-21 worksheet (.661), including five straight bowl appearances and back-to-back C-USA titles in 2000-01. He posted a 16-18 ledger (.471) in three seasons at Utah State (1995-97) while leading the Aggies to consecutive Big West Conference crowns in 1996-97. His six-year mark of 53-21 (.716) at Idaho (1989-94) included five NCAA I-AA playoff appearances and five Top 20 finishes. Twelve of his 17 teams have participated in postseason play.

Paul Bunyan Trophy

Since 1953, the winner of the Michigan State-Michigan game has been presented the Paul Bunyan Trophy. The four-foot wooden statue was donated by then-Governor G. Mennen Williams to mark Michigan State's acceptance into the Big Ten. Since '53, Michigan leads the series 32-19-2. The trophy depicts the legendary giant lumberjack astride an axe with feet planted on a map of the state with flags representing the schools.

Megaphone Trophy

Since 1949, the winner of the Michigan State-Notre Dame game has been presented the Megaphone Trophy, sponsored jointly by the Detroit alumni clubs of both schools. The megaphone is printed half blue, with a gold ND monogram, and half white, with a green MSC. All previous game scores are listed on the trophy. Michigan State and Notre Dame played 36 consecutive seasons from 1959-94 until the two-year interruption of the series in 1995-96. The current series contract runs through the 2011 season.

Old Brass Spittoon

Since 1950, the winner of the Michigan State-Indiana game has been presented the Old Brass Spittoon. The trophy was initiated by the junior and senior classes and the MSU student council at Michigan State, and soon accepted by the IU Student Senate. The brass spittoon came from one of Michigan's earliest trading posts and is widely believed to be nearly 150 years old. Legend has it that the spittoon was around when both institutions were founded Indiana: in 1820 and MAC in 1855. Since '50, Michigan State leads the series 38-11-1.

Land-Grant Trophy

Since the renewal of the series in 1993, the winner of the Michigan State-Penn State game has been presented the Land-Grant Trophy. The trophy honors the two universities' unique places in history as the two pioneer land-grant schools in the nation. Each institution was founded in 1855, Michigan State on Feb. 12 and Penn State on Feb. 22. The schools were the prototypes after which the land-grant system was patterned. The trophy features pictures of campus landmarks, Michigan State's Beaumont Tower and Penn State's Old Main, plus replicas of the Spartan and Nittany Lion. Since 1993, Penn State leads the series 10-3.

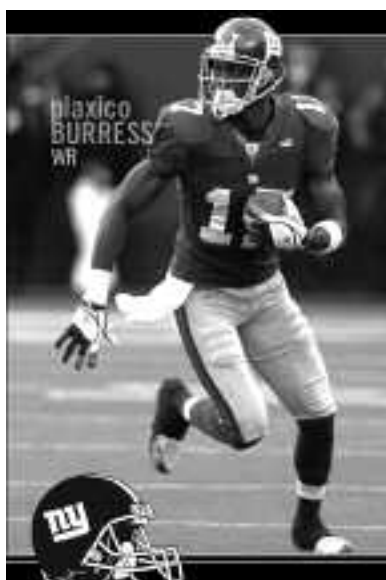

Flozell Adams started 107 consecutive games for the Dallas Cowboys before suffering a season-ending knee injury in Week 6 against the New York Giants in 2005.

Two-time Pro Bowler Julian Peterson, who recorded 399 tackles and 21.5 sacks in six seasons with San Francisco, signed as a free agent with the Seattle Seahawks in 2006.

Derrick Mason recorded his fifth-straight 1,000-yard receiving season, finishing his first year in Baltimore with 86 receptions for 1,073 yards and three touchdowns.

Plaxico Burress led the New York Giants in receptions in 2005, with 76 for 1,214 yards and seven touchdowns. His 1,214 receiving yards marked the second-highest single-season total in team history.

RETIRED JERSEY NUMBERS

Only three jersey numbers have been retired in the 109-year history of Michigan State football – No. 78 worn by All-America tackle Don Coleman, No. 90 worn by All-America roverback George Webster and No. 46 in honor of former MSU President John Hannah.

Spartan head coach Biggie Munn (1947-53) pulled Coleman's No. 78 out of circulation in 1952. Munn called Coleman, a consensus All-American in 1951, "the finest lineman ever to play for Michigan State." Coleman was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1975.

Webster, a two-time All-American, had his No. 90 retired by head coach Duffy Daugherty in 1967. "George Webster is not only the finest football player I've ever seen but he symbolizes our great 1965 and '66 teams." Webster was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1987.

Daugherty retired the No. 46 in 1969 as a tribute to Dr. Hannah, who stepped down after 46 years of service to the University including 28 years as its president (1941-69). Hannah championed Michigan State's acceptance into the Big Ten Conference in 1949. Former Spartan head coach and athletics director George Perles said, "John Hannah is the greatest legend in the history of Michigan State. He is the person who made MSU the great school it is today."

The fourth annual Orange Bowl game wasn't nearly as close as the final score might indicate as Auburn dominated play on both sides of the football in recording a shutout victory, 6-0, over Michigan State. It still ranks as the lowest-scoring game in Orange Bowl history. Auburn wasted two scoring opportunities in the first quarter. Jimmy Fenton's 25-yard run gave the Tigers a first-and-10 at the MSU 12 but the Spartan defense responded by stuffing three-straight running plays and Lyle Rockenbach broke up Fenton's fourth-down pass. Tom McShannock's interception and 29-yard return ended Auburn's second scoring threat. The game's only touchdown came in the second quarter and it was set up by George Kenmore's 28-yard pass to Ralph O'Gwynne to the MSU 2. Auburn fullback Pel Sitz netted only 1 yard on three carries before O'Gwynne scored on a 1-yard run around left end on fourth-and-goal. The Tigers had several chances in the second half to break the game open. Auburn turned the ball over on downs at the MSU 16 in the third quarter after Dutch Heath's 12-yard interception return to the MSU 24. Michigan State failed to record a first down until late in the third quarter when Ed Pearce broke a 29-yard run. Auburn drove inside the MSU 30 twice in the fourth quarter but failed to put points on the scoreboard. The Spartans' only other first down came on a 23-yard pass from John Pingel to Usif Haney midway through the fourth quarter. Auburn outgained Michigan State in total yards, 278-67. Fenton and Speck Kelly combined for 137 of the Tigers' 197 rushing yards, gaining 76 and 61 yards, respectively. Auburn held Pingel, MSU's All-America halfback, to 12 yards rushing on seven carries. A sellout crowd of nearly 19,000 attended the game at Miami's brand-new $360,000 Roddy Burdine Stadium.

Billy Wells ran for one touchdown and returned a punt for another score to lead No. 3 Michigan State to a 28-20 victory over No. 5 UCLA in the 1954 Rose Bowl. UCLA jumped out to a 14-0 lead, capitalizing on two Spartan turnovers. Midway through the first quarter, Jim Salisbury recovered a fumble on the MSU 37 and six plays later, Paul Cameron hit Bill Stits with a 13-yard TD strike to give the Bruins a 7-0 lead. Early in the second quarter, Hardiman Cureton and Bob Long combined to sack Spartan QB Earl Morrall, who fumbled, and Cureton fell on it at the MSU 18. Seven plays later, Cameron scored on a 2-yard run off left tackle. The momentum changed midway through the second quarter when Ellis Duckett blocked Cameron's punt from the UCLA 25 and returned it 6 yards for a touchdown as the Spartans cut the deficit to 14-7 at halftime. The Spartans dominated play in the third quarter. Michigan State took the second-half kickoff and drove 78 yards in 14 plays with LeRoy Bolden scoring on a 1-yard dive to tie the game at 14. Wells capped a 10-play, 73-yard drive with a 2-yard TD run to give the Spartans their first lead at 21-14 late in the third quarter. Early in the fourth quarter, UCLA forced another fumble and Jack Elena recovered it at the MSU 24. Two plays later, Cameron hit Rommie Loudd with a 28-yard TD toss but Cameron's conversion attempt sailed wide and the Bruins still trailed 21-20. Michigan State iced the game when Wells returned Cameron's punt 62 yards for a touchdown with 4:51 left in the fourth quarter. Wells led a well-balanced Spartan running attack, picking up 80 yards on 14 carries.

Dave Kaiser converted his first career field-goal attempt, a 41-yarder with :07 left, to give No. 2 Michigan State a 17-14 win over No. 4 UCLA in the 1956 Rose Bowl. Michigan State found itself in an early hole as Earl Morrall's pass on the first play from scrimmage was intercepted by Jim Decker and returned 4 yards to the MSU 16. Four plays later, Bob Davenport scored on a 2-yard run over left guard to give the Bruins a 7-0 lead with 11:48 left in the first quarter. Midway through the second quarter, Michigan State put together an 11-play, 80-yard drive to pull even at 7. Walt Kowalczyk's 30-yard run to the UCLA 17 set up Morrall's 13-yard touchdown toss to Clarence Peaks. On the second play of the fourth quarter, the Spartans took their first lead at 14-7 on Peaks' 67-yard TD pass to John Lewis, who caught the ball on the 50 and took it the distance. Five minutes later, UCLA's passing game produced a big play as Ronnie Knox hit Decker with a 47-yard bomb to the MSU 7. Three plays later, Doug Peters scored on a 1-yard plunge at center. Morrall directed an 11-play, 59-yard drive to the UCLA 24, but Gerald Planutis missed a 41-yard field-goal attempt. Five penalties were called in the closing minutes and field position shifted in Michigan State's favor when UCLA was whistled for three-straight fouls. The Spartans' game-winning drive started at the UCLA 19.

Gary Beban ran for two touchdowns and threw for 147 yards to lead No. 5 UCLA to a 14-12 upset win over No. 2 Michigan State in the 1966 Rose Bowl. Michigan State committed four first-half turnovers, with the first coming late in the first quarter as Don Japinga fumbled away a punt at the Spartan 6 that UCLA's John Erquiaga recovered. On the opening play of the second quarter, Beban scored on a 1-yard sneak to give the Bruins a 7-0 lead. UCLA then surprised the Spartans with an on-sides kick that Bruin Dallas Grider recovered at the MSU 42. Beban hooked up with Kurt Altenburg for a 27-yard pass to the MSU 1. Beban capped off the five-play, 42-yard drive with another 1-yard sneak as UCLA scored twice in 3:07 to build a 14-0 lead. Michigan State rallied late in the fourth quarter, scoring twice in the final 6:13. Steve Juday's 42-yard strike to Gene Washington set up Bob Apisa's 38-yard TD run. Juday's two-point pass attempt failed and the Spartans trailed 14-6. The Spartan defense held on the next series and Bubba Smith partially blocked Larry Cox's punt to give MSU possession at the UCLA 49. Juday finished off the 14-play scoring drive with a 1-yard sneak with :31 left. On the two-point try, Apisa was stopped short of the goal line by Grider and Bob Stiles. UCLA stopped the Spartans on fourth-and-1 plays three times in the second half, including twice in the fourth quarter. Michigan State outgained UCLA in total yards, 314-212. The Spartans picked up 204 yards on the ground, with Clinton Jones rushing for 113 yards on 20 carries.

Wishbone quarterback Nate Sassaman rushed for 136 yards on 28 carries to lead Army, making its first-ever bowl appearance, to a 10-6 triumph over Michigan State in the 1984 Cherry Bowl. Michigan State had an early scoring chance after Phil Parker intercepted a rare Army pass and returned it 18 yards to the Cadet 43. Three plays netted only 8 yards and Ralf Mojsiejenko's 52-yard field-goal attempt missed wide left. The Spartans put together a nine-play, 58-yard drive but early in the second quarter on third-and-goal from the Army 5, Dave Yarema's pass was intercepted in the end zone by Kermit McKelvy. A Michigan State fumble near midfield led to Army's only touchdown. Cadet Clarence Jones capped off an eight-play, 46-yard drive with a 4-yard run off right tackle to give Army a 7-0 lead with 6:41 left in the first half. Early in the third quarter, Sassaman rushed eight times for 37 yards during a 14-play, 49-yard drive, but Craig Stopa's 32-yard field-goal try went wide right. Army converted a Spartan fumble into a field goal and a 10-0 lead in the fourth quarter as a 15-play, 59-yard drive produced a 38-yard field goal by Stopa with 8:40 remaining. A Cadet fumble gave Michigan State life as Tom Allan recovered the ball at the MSU 49. Three plays later, Yarema found Bob Wasczenski in the left corner of the end zone with a 36-yard TD strike. The two-point pass attempt failed and Michigan State trailed 10-6 with 4:19 left. Army gained 256 yards rushing on 71 attempts while controlling the clock for 34:05. The Cadets sacked Yarema six times and picked off three of his passes, including two by Doug Pavsek.

Courtney Hawkins accounted for 216 all-purpose yards and caught a touchdown pass to lead No. 22 Michigan State to a 17-16 win over No. 21 Southern Cal in the 1990 Sun Bowl. MSU dodged a bullet early as Mike Iaquaniello intercepted a Todd Marinovich pass in the end zone on USC's first series. Late in the first quarter, the Trojans put together an eight-play, 60-yard drive to take a 7-0 lead on Marinovich's 7-yard pass to Gary Wellman. After a Spartan fumble, USC was again knocking on the door, but on a fourth-and-inches play from inside the MSU 1, Marinovich mishandled the snap from center and Alan Haller recovered the fumble in the end zone for a touchback. MSU took advantage of the turnover and Hyland Hickson capped a 10-play, 80-yard drive with an 18-yard TD run with 2:22 left in the first half. USC opened the second half with an 18-play, 80-yard drive that lasted nine minutes but it had to settle for a 20-yard field goal from Quin Rodriguez. The Spartans responded by scoring 10-straight points. On a third-and-13 play from the MSU 26, Dan Enos hit Hawkins on a post pattern for a 41-yard gain and a first down at the USC 33. Four plays later, Hawkins scored on a 21-yard pass from Enos that gave MSU its first lead at 14-10. Freddie Wilson's interception at the USC 34 late in the third quarter led to a 52-yard field goal by John Langeloh as the Spartans built a 17-10 advantage. The Trojans got field goals of 54 and 43 yards from Rodriguez in the fourth quarter to cut the deficit to 17-16. MSU iced the game with two rushing first downs in the final three minutes. Hawkins caught six passes for 106 yards and a score to earn Sun Bowl MVP honors. Enos connected on nine-of-17 throws for 131 yards, including eight-straight completions during one stretch.

Michigan State's only touchdown came on the game's first series. Spartan QB Jim Miller started with a hot hand, hitting all four pass attempts for 50 yards on the first series. Louisville also scored on its first possession as an eight-play, 56-yard march ended with David Akers' 31-yard field goal. Midway through the second quarter, the Spartans missed out on a scoring chance when Bill Stoyanovich misfired on a 31-yard field-goal attempt. Louisville put together a 14-play, 74-yard drive in the third quarter, but failed to put points on the scoreboard as Akers missed a 23-yard field-goal try. Brohm directed a seven-play, 59-yard drive for the go-ahead score early in the fourth quarter, hitting Reggie Ferguson on a crossing pattern for a 25-yard TD pass. A 24-yard interception return by Darius Watson gave Louisville the ball back at the MSU 33 but seven plays later, the Spartan defense stopped Anthony Shelman short of the goal line on fourth-and-1. The Cardinals got two points back on the next play as Joe Johnson and Tyrus McCloud tackled Spartan tailback Craig Thomas in his own end zone for a safety. Louisville iced the game with a seven-play, 54-yard drive as Ralph Dawkins scored on an 11-yard sweep around right end.

Smoker completed five-straight passes for 39 yards and Tyrell Dortch gained 16 yards on two running plays as the Spartans marched to the Cornhusker 17. PRESIDENT LOU ANNA K. SIMON

Lou Anna K. Simon is the 20th president of Michigan State University. Prior to assuming the role of president, Simon was provost and vice president for academic affairs at Michigan State University, a position to which she was appointed in 1993. At the time of her appointment, she was among the youngest to achieve such a position in the Association of American Universities (AAU), and was one of only 11 women to hold the position of chief academic officer among the 62 leading research institutions that compose the organization. Currently, Simon is one of only nine women holding the position of chief executive officer among these AAU institutions.

In May 2003, the MSU Board of Trustees appointed Simon as interim president of Michigan State when then-President Peter McPherson accepted the position of financial coordinator for the Office of Reconstruction and Humanitarian Assistance in Iraq. She served in the dual role of both interim president and provost through September 2003 when President McPherson returned.

Simon has a distinguished history with MSU. After earning her doctorate in administration and higher education here in 1974, she became a member of the MSU faculty and assistant director of the Office of Institutional Research (now the Office of Planning and Budgets). From there, she moved into a variety of administrative roles, including assistant provost for general academic administration during the eighties and associate provost in the early nineties. She also serves as provost of the Michigan State University College of Law.

Simon has taught graduate seminars in the College of Education on evaluation, planning and budgeting. She is a committed advocate and participant in the Academic Governance of the institution that provides for major, fundamental faculty and student participation in deliberations of departments, schools, colleges and at the all-university level. Simon has detailed, comprehensive knowledge of university budgets and financial management as a result of the years of experience and responsibility as associate provost, acting provost and provost. She understands and supports the essential role of diversity in all areas of MSU and its endeavors both on and off campus.

With her extensive administrative experience, active involvement in development activities, and her leadership and participation in a variety of innovative initiatives across the mission, Simon as provost has been responsible for the full range of academic and academic support programs at MSU. She is regarded nationally as a powerful advocate of a research-active, student-centered university that is an engaged partner with society, in the land-grant tradition.

Since 1999, Simon has been a member of the Executive Committee of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (CIC), an academic consortium of twelve major teaching and research universities in the Midwest including the eleven institutions that compose the Big Ten, along with the University of Chicago. She was elected chairperson of the CIC in 2000, a position traditionally filled by a provost, and served until she was named MSU president.

Her publications, in texts such as "Serving Children and Families through Community-University Partnerships and Universities and Communities: Remaking Professional and Interprofessional Education for the Next Century," demonstrate continuing commitment to the promotion of university outreach ventures, especially those related to serving youth and families.

Most recently, she co-edited with Maureen Kenny, Karen Kiley-Brabeck and Richard Lerner the book "Learning to Serve: Promoting Civil Society Through Service Learning," published in 2002 by Kluwer Academic Publishers.

Ron Mason was introduced as the 16th athletics director in Michigan State history on Jan. 28, 2002, and assumed the leadership of the 25-sport department on July 1, 2002. Prior to moving into an administrative role, Mason spent 36 years behind the bench during which he established himself as the winningest coach in college hockey history.

During Mason's four-year tenure, State athletics squads have captured nine conference championships (regular season and postseason combined). In addition, MSU has been represented at the NCAA Championships 60 times, including Final Four appearances by men's basketball (2005), women's basketball (2005) and field hockey (2002 and 2004).

In 2005-06, 12 of MSU's 25 sports participated in NCAA Championships. In November 2005, the women's soccer team earned its second-ever bid to the NCAA Tournament. In March 2006, the men's basketball team received its ninth-straight invitation to the NCAA Tournament, while the women's basketball team extended its streak of consecutive NCAA appearances to four. In addition, the Spartan hockey team won its first Central Collegiate Hockey Association Tournament championship since 2001 and its 11th overall. In May 2006, the women's rowing team attained its highest NCAA finish in program history, claiming sixth place.

During Mason's watch, Spartan student-athletes also have excelled in the classroom. In fall 2005, 14 teams posted a 3.0 or higher grade-point average, including 343 student-athletes who recorded a 3.0 or better for the semester. In spring 2006, student-athletes produced the highest department term GPA in 10 years at 2.9844.

Community outreach and service also have been a priority during his tenure, with over 300 student-athletes participating in outreach activities during the 2005-06 academic year. Now in its third year, the outreach initiative PACT (Putting Athletes and Community Together) has reached over 30,000 area children.

Mason's vision on diversity programming has had a significant impact on the daily lives of MSU's student-athletes. MSU's Student-Athlete Multicultural Center, the first of its kind at the NCAA Division I-A level, provides quality leadership training for minority student-athletes as well as social and outreach programs.

Under Mason's leadership, the Ralph Young Fund has set all-time record highs each of the last four years, including $17 million for the 2005-06 fiscal year. He successfully introduced Scholarship Seating for football as well as men's and women's basketball which has generated significant funds for the athletics department. Fundraising efforts have been completed on three major athletic facility initiatives, including the Alfred Berkowitz Basketball Complex, Spartan Stadium expansion and Doug Rearick Golf Practice Facility. Significant progress also has been made towards the funding of two additional athletic facilities, including expansion of the Duffy Daugherty Football Building and the Old College Field project, which supports MSU's men's and women's soccer, baseball and softball programs.

In 2004-05, Mason saw a school-record five teams (field hockey, men's golf, women's basketball, crew and men's soccer) capture Big Ten Conference Championships. The field hockey team, which won the regular-season title, advanced to its second Final Four in the last three years in November, while the men's soccer team captured its first-ever Big Ten title. The men's golf team won just its second Big Ten title in school history in May, while crew won its first-ever conference crown. The basketball teams became the sixth school in NCAA history to send both its men's and women's programs to the Final Four in the same year, as the women's team fell in the national title game. In addition, the women's basketball team shared the Big Ten regular-season championship with Ohio State and won the Big Ten Tournament title for the first time in school history.

In 2003-04, 17 of the 25 sports were represented at the 2003-04 NCAA Championships and the football team participated in the Alamo Bowl. The men's basketball team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for a seventh-straight year, while the women's basketball squad made its second-straight trek. In addition, the softball team captured the school's first-ever Big Ten Tournament Championship, while the field hockey squad won its second-straight Big Ten Championship and advanced to its third-straight NCAA Tournament. In addition, "The BasketBowl" — the MSU-Kentucky basketball game was played before a world-record crowd of 78,129 at Detroit's Ford Field on Dec. 13, 2003.

In 2002-03, 17 of MSU's 25 sports were represented at the NCAA Championships, including the field hockey team which advanced to the Final Four for the first time in school history. In addition, the men's basketball team moved on to the Elite Eight and the women's basketball and softball teams made the NCAA Tournament for the first time since the 1997 and 1999 seasons, respectively.

Mason finished his 36-year coaching career in 2002 with a record of 924-380-83. In 23 years at Michigan State, he posted a 635-270-69 mark. He is the only coach in college hockey history with more than 750 victories. His career highlights include an NCAA Championship at Michigan State in 1986 and an NAIA Championship with Lake Superior State in 1972. He led MSU to 17 CCHA regular-season and playoff titles and guided 23 teams to the NCAA Tournament, an all-time record. In addition, he coached 35 All-Americans and 50 former Spartans who went on to establish careers in the National Hockey League.

In 1966, Mason began his coaching career as the first head coach at Lake Superior State, where he also served as assistant athletics director. He guided the Lakers to five NAIA Tournament appearances, including the 1972 National Championship. Three of his other teams finished as NAIA runners-up.

In 1973, he moved on to Bowling Green, establishing the Falcons as a national hockey power. In six seasons, he led Bowling Green to three CCHA regular-season titles (1976, 1978, 1979) and three playoff championships (1977, 1978, 1979). His 1977-78 squad finished third in the NCAA Tournament with an impressive 31-8 record. The following season, his BGSU squad established a then-national record with 37 wins. While at BGSU, he coached two members of the 1980 U.S. Gold Medal Olympic Hockey Team — Ken Morrow and Mark Wells.

Mason's Michigan State career began with the 1979-80 season when he replaced the legendary Amo Bessone. The seven-time CCHA Coach of the Year led the Spartans to seven regular-season league championships and 10 playoff crowns. In 2001, the conference honored Mason by renaming the CCHA playoff trophy — The Mason Cup — in recognition of his contributions to college hockey and the formation of the league as well as his success behind the bench.

On March 18, 1994, a win over Bowling Green established him as the winningest college hockey coach in history. In 2001-02, Mason's final campaign as the Spartan coach, he recorded his unprecedented 900th-win as a college hockey coach with a victory over Ferris State (Oct. 20, 2001).

Mason also had a first-hand perspective on one of MSU's biggest athletic endeavors, as he coached his Spartans against Michigan in front of a world-record crowd of 74,554 in an outdoor hockey game at Spartan Stadium (Oct. 6, 2001). He coached MSU's only two Hobey Baker Award winners — Kip Miller in 1990 and Ryan Miller in 2001. He also coached the first college player — Joe Murphy — to be taken first overall in the NHL Draft in 1986 by the Detroit Red Wings.

Mason, who served on the American Hockey Association Board of Directors from 1973-77, is a former member of the NCAA Ice Hockey Rules Committee and NCAA Ice Hockey Championships Committee.

He is active in a number of local organizations and charities. He is very involved with Sparrow Hospital in Lansing, where he recently completed a four-year term on the Sparrow Foundation Board and has set up the Ron Mason Fund for Kids that supports the Pediatric Rehabilitation Department, which has raised nearly $600,000 since 1998. He also served as the honorary chairperson for the Children's Miracle Network, which has raised $17.5 million over the last 18 years, and has worked with the Coaches For Kids campaign, which has raised $3.8 million in the last six years for a pediatrics emergency room at Sparrow Hospital. In addition, he served on the committee for the broomball game for the Legal Eagles, which benefited the Boys and Girls Club of Lansing, and spent several years on the Lansing Safety Council. Mason currently is a board member for the Lansing Chamber of Commerce.

Mason received his bachelor's degree from St. Lawrence University in 1964 and his master's degree from Pittsburgh in 1965. He was presented with an honorary doctorate from Michigan State in the spring of 2001.

For all his career accomplishments, Mason has been inducted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame (1994), Lake Superior Sports Hall of Fame (1996) and St. Lawrence Sports Hall of Fame (1999). In addition, the American Hockey Coaches Association honored him with the John MacInnes Award for his outstanding contributions to hockey in the spring of 2003, and he received the Hobey Baker Memorial Award Foundation's 2004 "Legend of Hockey" award in April 2004.

Born Jan. 14, 1940, in Blyth, Ont., Mason and his wife, Marion, have two daughters, Tracey and Cindy. An avid fisherman, Mason also enjoys golfing.

STUDENT-ATHLETE SUPPORT SERVICES

Academic, personal, and professional support are essential to college success. At MSU, Student-Athlete Support Services helps student-athletes reach their full potential.

Our philosophy is to offer an academic support program that will assist all student-athletes with the transition to college and integrate with the total university. This all-encompassing support continues throughout the student-athlete's collegiate career, until the day he or she receives a diploma, lands a job, or enters graduate school.

Academic counseling, career exploration, planning and placement, and academic assistance through tutorial programs are just some of the ways we encourage student success.

Being proactive rather than reactive, our staff does not wait for an academic crisis to occur. We gather important background information and build an academic profile on each student-athlete, assessing his or her needs in advance. We also stay informed on the daily progress of each student-athlete.

Freshmen and transfer student-athletes encounter a major transition when making the switch from high school or community college to a university. These students, while adjusting to their new routines, receive extra attention and support.

College is not easy. But with hard work and dedication from both the student-athlete and the support staff, the student-athlete can have a successful college experience.

There are a total of 14 staff members to assist in and work with the following:

- Priority registration
- Track academic progress
- Monitor grades
- Conduct weekly meetings with freshmen
- Conduct eligibility meetings
- Provide Learning Specialists Services

THE CLARA BELL SMITH ACADEMIC CENTER

The center is a 31,000-square-foot academic facility that was funded by private donations.

Amenities include:

- Structured study area
- Quiet study areas
- Computerized check-in system
- 10 individual meeting rooms
- Multicultural Center
- Two staffed computer labs
- 60 computers
- Four classrooms
- Wireless Internet Access
- 210-seat multimedia auditorium

“The Smith Center speaks for itself. With an academic facility like that, it's hard not to do well in the classroom. All of the resources and tools are provided for academic success. There are countless tutors available, with expertise in all academic areas. The computer lab is seemingly open 24 hours a day, and the counselors take pride in following the academic progress of every student-athlete.”

Four-time Academic All-Big Ten selection

The Clara Bell Smith Academic Center is named after the mother of Steve Smith, a former MSU basketball All-American who played 14 seasons in the National Basketball Association. Smith donated $2.5 million to the $7.5 million facility, the largest gift ever by a professional athlete to any college or university.

ACADEMIC SUCCESS

In three seasons under head coach John L. Smith, 41 student-athletes have been named Academic All-Big Ten, the highest three-year total in football program history. In 2005, a school-record 18 Spartans earned Academic All-Big Ten honors, tying for the most selections by any conference institution.

“Coach Smith has created an academic culture that embraces and rewards academic achievement. His constant reiteration of academic responsibility permeates his program, and therefore, you see his student-athletes buying into that mind-set.”

“John L. Smith has sent a clear message that the student-athletes are here to receive an education. He addresses academic issues at every team meeting. Coach Smith and his staff closely monitor the academic progress of every single player. The position coaches have weekly meetings with each player to discuss academic goals. The focus of this coaching staff is to encourage every player to earn a degree.”

LIFE SKILLS PROGRAM

The mission of the Life Skills Program is to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual as a whole person — academically, athletically, and emotionally — and on the changing needs of that individual during college and in the years after graduation.

MSU implements and expands on the vision of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Program by using university and community resources to provide student-athletes with the best possible resources in the following areas:

LEAP

The goal of the Learning Enhancement & Academic Program (LEAP) is to provide comprehensive services for Michigan State University student-athletes. LEAP houses the entire tutorial program while providing a wide range of learning services, including learning strategy interventions, mentor programming, content-based tutorials, assistive technology and structured study experiences.

In March 2006, Drew Stanton kicks off "Reading Month" for a class of third-graders at Hiawatha Elementary School in Okemos, Mich.

Spartan Stadium is in its 83rd season as home to Michigan State football. Since its opening in 1923, Michigan State has won 69 percent of its games played in Spartan Stadium.

Spartan Stadium represents a tribute to Michigan State's football past and a vote of confidence in its future. A $64 million expansion project completed prior to the start of the 2005 football season, features the addition of nearly 3,000 seats, including 24 suites and a 193-seat press box, bringing the current stadium capacity to 75,005. "The Spartan" statue has been relocated to the atrium of the new structure. The 200,000-square-foot addition also houses the MSU Alumni Association, University Development and other units. The MSU Board of Trustees approved the major addition and expansion project of Spartan Stadium in September 2003.

Here's a quick look at some Spartan Stadium construction milestones:

- Dec. 22, 2003 – Groundbreaking begins at construction site.
- May 7, 2004 – Erection of steel framework begins.
- July 30, 2004 – Topping-out ceremony held as the uppermost steel beam is lifted into place.
- Nov. 13, 2004 – Press box demolition begins just 13 hours after Michigan State concluded its 2004 home schedule against Wisconsin.
- Aug. 1, 2005 – The 20-month construction project was completed.

Barton Malow/Clark served as the construction manager for the Spartan Stadium expansion project, with HNTB providing architectural services.

Prior to the 2002 season, ESPN.com's Mel Kiper Jr. ranked Spartan Stadium No. 8 on his list of the nation's most scenic venues.

Natural grass returned to Spartan Stadium in 2002 after a 33-year absence, with the installation of a modular field. The new playing surface, planted in May of 2001 at MSU's Hancock Turfgrass Research Center, is comprised of a blend of nine varieties of Kentucky bluegrass. The original switch from natural grass to artificial turf came in time for the 1969 season.

Since 1957, capacity crowds have attended 143 games in Spartan Stadium, including the single-game record 80,401 fans who witnessed MSU's 20-19 loss to top-ranked Notre Dame on Sept. 22, 1990. Michigan State has played 45-consecutive home games before crowds in excess of 72,000. The Spartans have ranked among the NCAA's top 20 in attendance each of the last 50 seasons, including 20th in 2005, averaging 75,183 fans per game.

Season-ticket sales have topped the 60,000 mark four times in Spartan football history, with an all-time record 61,479 season tickets purchased in 2000.

A series of projects paralleling the Spartans' rise to national football prominence enlarged the steel-and-concrete facility from its original 14,000 seats in 1923 to its present size in 1957.

The first came in 1935, the year in which the stadium was officially named Macklin Field, boosting the capacity to 26,000. The 1948 enlargement raised the total to 51,000.

After 9,000 new seats upped the capacity to 60,000 in 1956, the upper decks were added to the east and west stands in 1957, bringing the capacity to 76,000. It also became Spartan Stadium that year. Renovations during the summer of 1994 improved sightlines and comfort for fans, while reducing the capacity to its current 72,027.

On Oct. 6, 2001, Spartan Stadium added another chapter to its storied history as a world-record crowd of 74,554 attended the MSU-Michigan outdoor hockey game.

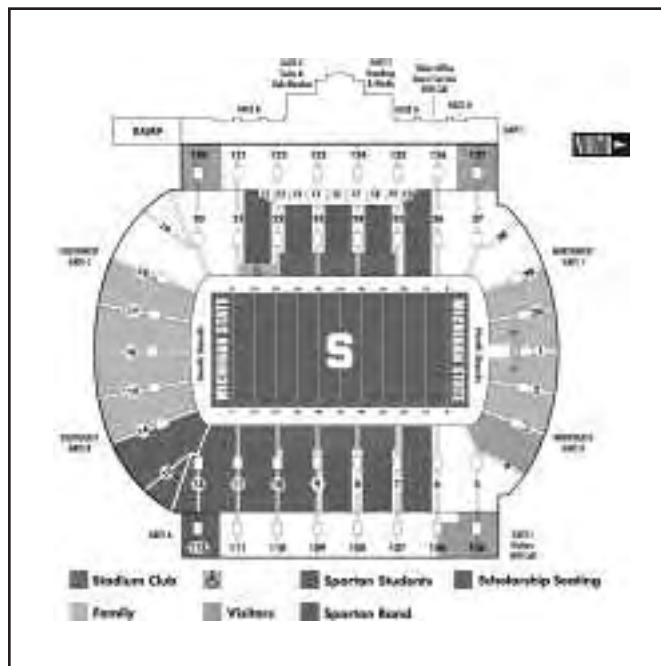

Prior to the 1998 season, a Mitsubishi Diamond Vision was installed in the south end zone and a new scoreboard and black and white message board were added to the north end zone. The CRT video display measures 21 feet x 27 feet and it is operated from a digital production control room in Spartan Stadium. The video display board shows live game action, replays and special features. In addition, a concert-quality 50,000-watt sound system was installed.

In 1998, Spartan Stadium celebrated its 75th anniversary plus it reached another milestone that season when it played host to its 400th game, a 29-5 MSU victory over Northwestern on Oct. 31.

With its 49-14 victory over No. 4 Wisconsin in the 2004 home finale, Michigan State recorded its 300th win in Spartan Stadium. Michigan State has compiled a 303-131-13 record (.692) since taking up residency in Spartan Stadium (formerly Macklin Field) in 1923. The Spartans have gone undefeated at home 16 times since the stadium opened, including a perfect 6-0 mark in 1999. It marked MSU's first undefeated home record since 1966 (5-0-1) and its first unbeaten and untied home slate since 1965 (5-0-0).

In addition, Michigan State has suffered only one home loss during a season 27 times. Only eight times in the history of the stadium have the Spartans experienced a losing record at home.

Michigan State's longest home winning streak is 19 games from Oct. 14, 1950, through Nov. 21, 1953.

Injuries are a part of sports - they come with the touchdowns and big tackles. Dealing with athletic injuries falls into the capable hands of the MSU Sports Medicine staff.

Located in the Duffy Daugherty Football Building, the Sports Medicine staff is comprised of a team of surgeons, doctors, certified athletic trainers and a cast of students who aspire to be the athletic trainers of the future. In its 2002 College Football Preview, Sports Illustrated rated the Duffy Daugherty training room as one of the nation's ultimate facilities.

The philosophy of the Sports Medicine staff is two-fold: to help prevent injuries as much as possible through effective preventative programs, and to facilitate an effective rehabilitation program after an injury. In all cases, the ultimate well-being of each individual is considered the top priority.

The 6,000-square-foot training room features a hydrotherapy station and a treadmill with suspension equipment, which allows student-athletes to rehab with reduced stress on their joints. The training room also includes cold-pool spas and various other therapy equipment and modalities.

The Duffy Daugherty Building, located across the street from Spartan Stadium, houses the coaching staff offices, position meeting rooms, weight room, locker room, training room, equipment room, video room and classrooms. The complex also features an 86,000-square-foot indoor practice facility.

Fund-raising efforts are currently underway as part of the university-wide capital campaign for a $9-10 million expansion project at the Duffy Daugherty Football Building. The construction plans feature an expanded weight room that will more than double in size, from 9,000 to 19,000-square feet. The expansion project also includes new position and staff meeting rooms, coaches' offices and two atriums: one housing a football museum and the other a recruiting area.

During the spring, the grass practice fields behind the Duffy Daugherty Football Building were completely renovated to better mimic the Kentucky bluegrass playing surface in Spartan Stadium. In addition, a 50-yard infill field, manufactured by General Sports Turf (Rochester, Mich.), was installed at the southwest corner of the practice fields.

In June 2002, AstroPlay, a new concept in synthetic turf, was installed in the indoor practice facility. The $310,000 surface is grass-like from concept to performance. Unlike previous generations of artificial turf, AstroPlay is not abrasive. The grass-like, polyethylene fiber matrix is filled with rubber granules.

The 33,000-square-foot Daugherty Building underwent a major overhaul prior to the 1997 football season. The new construction added 17,000-square-feet to the complex, now more than double its original size from its opening in 1979. Financing for the $5 million construction and renovation project was provided entirely by Stadium Club seating in Spartan Stadium.

The new amenities included state-of-the-art weight, training and locker rooms. The 9,000-square-foot weight room ranks among the largest in the Big Ten. The room is adorned with murals, 12 feet high and 24 feet wide, featuring football program highlights.

In its 2002 College Football Preview, Sports Illustrated featured Michigan State's training room as one of the nation's ultimate facilities. The 6,000-square-foot training room features a hydrotherapy station and a treadmill with suspension equipment, which allows student-athletes to rehab with reduced stress on their joints. The training room also includes cold-pool spas and various other therapy equipment and modalities.

The locker room houses wooden lockers so big that they had to be assembled on site. The Daugherty Building even includes a players' lounge, complete with a pool table and big-screen television.

TOTAL CONDITIONING APPROACH

"Total Conditioning" best describes the ultimate goal of the Spartan Strength and Conditioning Program under the direction of Ken Mannie and Tommy Hoke. The year-round approach adhered to by the Spartans addresses all of the development, speed and power improvement, flexibility and cardiorespiratory conditioning.

Michigan State football players train in an aggressive and intense manner with a high priority placed on steady progression. The weight room atmosphere emphasizes a championship work ethic, proper instruction and supervision, and safe, proven exercise techniques.

Attention is also given to the educational process regarding dietary considerations and healthy life-style habits that will benefit the players far beyond their playing days.

A NATIONALLY RESPECTED PROGRAM AND TOP MEDIA DRAW

Michigan State is a popular choice for national and regional television coverage. Since 1995, the Spartans have played in front of a television audience on 115 occasions, an average of 10 TV appearances per season. Michigan State enters the 2006 season with a streak of 38-consecutive live TV appearances (games televised regionally or nationally since November 2002).

Approximately 19.2 million people watched Spartan football games on TV in 2005. Last fall, ESPN's College GameDay made its fourth appearance in East Lansing, Mich., since 1997, covering the regular-season finale against Penn State in Spartan Stadium. In 2004, ESPN2's Cold Pizza produced four live segments from inside Spartan Stadium the day before the MSU-Notre Dame game.

Michigan State is the most-listened-to college football team in the state, with the Spartan Sports Network reaching an average radio audience of 307,100 on fall Saturdays.

Michigan State's media exposure truly ranks among the nation's elite programs. Spartan football enjoys the benefit of daily coverage in Detroit, the nation's 10th-largest television market. MSU's television coverage includes two other top-ranked markets: Grand Rapids/Kalamazoo/Battle Creek (No. 38) and Flint/Saginaw/Bay City (No. 65).

It also is difficult to match Michigan State's print media coverage. Five of the nation's top 150 newspapers, based upon reported circulation, assign writers and columnists to cover the Spartan football beat, including The Detroit News/Free Press (No. 12), The Grand Rapids Press (No. 71), The Flint Journal (No. 115) and Lansing State Journal (No. 133).

Weekly press conferences are held on campus, so that the media can get its fill of Spartan notes and quotes. Nearly 300 press credentials are issued to newspaper and magazine writers plus television and radio personalities on Spartan game days.

Fans with access to the internet keep up to date with Spartan football by visiting the official Michigan State athletics web site at www.msuspartans.com. The web site features a wealth of information on MSU football, including game results and stats, media guide contents, weekly press releases, player features, photo galleries and video highlight clips plus live radio broadcasts and live in-game statistics. The web site averaged 1.4 million page views per month in 2005-06, including more than 189,000 unique visitors per month.

THE NICKNAME

In 1926, Michigan State's first southern baseball training tour provided the setting for the birth of the "Spartan" nickname.

It all came about when a Lansing sportswriter imposed the silent treatment on a contest-winning nickname and substituted his own choice, the name that has lasted through the years.

In 1925, Michigan State College replaced the name Michigan Agricultural College. The college sponsored a contest to select a nickname to replace "Aggies" and picked "The Michigan Staters."

George S. Alderton, then sports editor of the Lansing State Journal, decided the name was too cumbersome for newspaper writing and vowed to find a better one. Alderton contacted Jim Hasselman of Information Services to see if entries still remained from the contest. When informed that they still existed, Alderton ran across the entry name of "Spartans" and then decided that was the choice. Unfortunately, Alderton forgot to write down who submitted that particular entry, so that part of the story remains a mystery.

Rewriting game accounts supplied by Perry Fremont, a catcher on the squad, Alderton first used the name sparingly and then ventured into the headlines with it. (Incidentally, after two days of spelling the name incorrectly with an "o", Mr. Alderton changed it to Spartan on a tip from a close friend.) Dale Stafford, a sports writer for the Lansing Capitol News, a rival of the State Journal, picked up the name for his paper after a couple of days. Alderton called Stafford and suggested that he might want to join the Spartan parade and he did.

As Mr. Alderton explains: "No student, alumnus or college official had called up the editor to complain about our audacity in giving the old school a new name, so we ventured into headlines with it. Happily for the experiment, the name took. It began appearing in other newspapers and when the student publication used it, that clinched it."

SPARTY

"The Spartan" statue, designed and produced by MSU assistant art professor Leonard D. Jungwirth, has a permanent home inside the atrium of the Spartan Stadium tower. The 9-foot-7 ceramic figure weighs approximately 6,600 pounds, including its base. In 2005, the sculpture was relocated to protect it from the elements.

"The Spartan" was dedicated on June 9, 1945, at the intersection of Red Cedar Road, Kalamazoo Street and Chestnut Road. Popularly known as "Sparty," the statue remains one of the favorite photo subjects of campus visitors.

Last fall, an exact replica of the original terra cotta sculpture – now cast in bronze – took up residency on the plaza located at the north end of Demonstration Hall Field. The molds for the bronze statue were made from the original sculpture. The new statue was cast in bronze at the Artworks Foundry in Berkeley, Calif.

As part of MSU's sesquicentennial celebration, the bronze "Sparty" was dedicated on Oct. 8, 2005.

Donors contributed approximately $500,000 to pay for all work related to the new sculpture, including the plaza.

GREEN & WHITE

Details are sketchy as to when Michigan State athletic teams officially began using the school colors green and white. But records of the Athletic Association of the then Michigan Agricultural College show that on April 11, 1899, the organization took steps toward adoption of a green monogram, "to be worn only by athletes who subsequently take part in intercollegiate events."

It is generally thought the colors came into wide use with the arrival in 1903 of Chester L. Brewer as the school's first full-time director of athletics. Brewer also coached the Spartan football, basketball, baseball and track teams, the only varsity units in existence at the time.

SPARTY MASCOT

In June 2006, Michigan State's beloved Sparty, who won back-to-back national championships at the Universal Cheer Association's mascot competition in 2004-05, became one of six collegiate finalists for induction into the Mascot Hall of Fame. The 2006 induction ceremony is scheduled for Aug. 15 in Philadelphia, Pa.

In January 2004, Sparty became the first Big Ten mascot to claim the national title, and in January 2005, he defended his national championship at Walt Disney World in Orlando, Fla., beating Goldy Gopher and Bucky Badger in the finals.

In April 1998, Sparty was selected the "Buffest Mascot on Campus" by Muscle & Fitness.

Made of hi-tech materials, including a vinyl chest plate and fiberglass molds like the ones used for making Muppets, the seven-foot costume weighs in at 40 pounds, allowing enough flexibility for playful gestures and animation. Sparty is a far cry from the many papier-mache heads that have popped up since the 1950's, mostly from fraternity efforts. The first official one apparently debuted in 1955 courtesy of Theta Xi.

Other versions were introduced from time to time. In 1984, Sigma Phi Epsilon introduced the first "gruff" head--sporting the unshaven look that still adorns many sweatshirts and jackets.

By contrast, the current Sparty costume is a state-of-the-art, full-bodied uniform that costs $12,000.

Today six students--their identities kept private--take turns being Sparty with one of three costumes. Because of the costume size, Sparty aspirants must be between 5-10 and 6-2 in height. Candidates who fit the physical needs are chosen after a hands-on process that includes tryouts and interviews.

The Sparty Mascot Program is run and funded by the Student Alumni Foundation.

Those interested in hiring Sparty can submit a request online at www.msusaf.com and click on the mascot program or contact the SAF office at 517-355-4458. Those who wish to donate to the Sparty mascot fund can contact University Development at 517-355-8257.

MSU FIGHT SONG

*On the banks of the Red Cedar,
There's a school that's known to all;
Its specialty is winning,
And those Spartans play good ball;
Spartan teams are never beaten,
All through the game they'll fight;
Fight for the only colors,
Green and White.
Go right through for MSU,
Watch the points keep growing.
Spartan teams are bound to win,
They're fighting with a vim.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
See their team is weakening,
We're going to win this game.
Fight! Fight! Rah! Team, Fight!
Victory for MSU.*

BOWL CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

- The Bowl Championship Series (BCS) is a five-game arrangement for postseason college football that is designed to match the two top-rated teams in a national championship game and to create exciting and competitive match-ups between eight other highly regarded teams in four other games.

- The bowl games participating are the Fiesta Bowl, Orange Bowl, Rose Bowl and Sugar Bowl. In addition, a BCS National Championship Game will be played at one of the bowl sites.
- The BCS is managed by the commissioners of the 11 NCAA Division I-A conferences, the director of athletics at the University of Notre Dame, and representatives of the bowl organizations. The conferences are Atlantic Coast, Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, Conference USA, Mid-American, Mountain West, Sun Belt, Pacific 10, Southeastern and Western Athletic.

The conference commissioners and the Notre Dame athletics director make decisions regarding all BCS issues, in consultation with an athletics directors' advisory group and subject to the approval of a presidential oversight committee whose members represent all 117 Division I-A programs.

- The five BCS games are part of the overall bowl structure. There are 26 other bowl games presently, and those games provide meaningful season-ending opportunities to teams.
- As one conference commissioner said, "the celebration that occurs among the student-athletes, coaching staff and fans at the end of each bowl games is an indication of the importance of all bowl games."
- The BCS places great premium on the regular season of college football. Football weekends are an important ingredient in the overall college experience — going well beyond simply what occurs in the athletics department. A significant amount of the revenue that supports all athletic programs is generated by regular-season football. And so it is of great importance that the regular season remains strong and vibrant.
- The top two teams were matched in bowl games infrequently before the BCS, when conferences were contractually obligated to certain games and there was no flexibility to attempt to match the top teams.
- The 2006 regular season (2007 bowl games) is the first year of a television agreement with Fox Sports. ABC has an agreement to continue to televise the Rose Bowl through 2014.

REVENUE

Before the BCS was created, conferences without automatic berths in the "major" bowl games received no revenue from those games. In the first eight years of the BCS system, more than $50 million was distributed to conferences that do not have an annual automatic berth in the system.

ECONOMIC IMPACT

The total economic impact in the host cities from the five BCS games in January, 2007, is estimated at more than $1.2 billion.

SCHEDULE OF GAMES: JANUARY 2007

Access for teams without automatic berths will expand significantly beginning with the 2006 regular season, when the fifth game is added to the BCS structure. Four at-large berths will be available, as opposed to the previous two. The schedule for January 2007 is as follows: Jan. 1 Fiesta Bowl, Jan. 1 Rose Bowl, Jan. 2 Orange Bowl, Jan. 3 Sugar Bowl and Jan. 8 BCS National Championship Game (Phoenix)

THE BCS IS WORKING

The BCS is succeeding. The nation's No. 1 and No. 2 teams met only eight times in bowl games in the 57 seasons between 1936-92, when the "bowl coalition" (a predecessor of the BCS) was created. No. 1 and No. 2 have met eight times in the 15 years since 1992. In the eight-year history of the BCS, the AP's No. 1 and No. 2 have met five times.

OFFICE OF COMPLIANCE SERVICES

The Michigan State University Office of Compliance Services functions within the scope of the University's compliance program to coordinate, monitor and verify compliance with all NCAA and Big Ten requirements and to educate the various constituencies of the University and the athletics community regarding NCAA and Big Ten regulations.

The Office of Compliance Services directs the Athletics Department's compliance efforts and acts as a resource center concerning NCAA regulations and compliance issues. The primary functions of the Office of Compliance Services are to oversee and verify the accurate and timely completion of NCAA required procedures. In addition, the Office of Compliance Services provides educational programming and interpretive support to ensure that all individuals involved with the athletics program fully understand the University's compliance expectations.

Michigan State University is committed and obligated to the principle of institutional control in operating its athletics program in a manner that is consistent with the letter and the spirit of NCAA, Big Ten Conference and University rules and regulations. As MSU strives for academic and athletic excellence, we must always seek the highest standard of ethical conduct. Your support and involvement with our athletics program is critical to its success; however, we must emphasize that any inappropriate, even inadvertent, activity could jeopardize the eligibility of our current or prospective student-athletes and the compliance of the University with NCAA regulations.

If you have any questions regarding NCAA rules and regulations, especially relating to interactions between representatives of MSU's athletics interests and prospective and currently enrolled student-athletes, please contact the Office of Compliance Services. MSU's athletics programs want and need your full cooperation to ensure that MSU wins the right way, both on and off the field.

Please do not hesitate to contact the Office of Compliance Services should you have any questions regarding NCAA or Big Ten rules.
